B.C. Expert Lashes Out At Detwiler

Miracle Mile Scheme 'Not In Best Interest' Professor Testifies

A Vancouver university professor today bluntly declared the $28,000,000 Detwiler project "is not in the best interests of the city."

Dr. Robert M. Clark, assistant professor of economics at University of British Columbia told the Board of Public Utility Commissioners the tax-free project would result in an increased mill rate for Edmonton.

Dr. Clark qualified his statements by admitting it is extremely difficult to accurately estimate the results of an agreement extending over such a long period as 60 years.

Dr. Clark was called as a witness by Edmonton lawyer Stan Ross, counsel for a business group opposing the project agreement.

Dr. Clark said on the basis of his analysis the project would call for an increase of five and one half mills if there are no profits.

The Markets At a Glance

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Stock traders cold-shouldered most of the market today and focussed their attention on radio-television issues at higher prices.

The TV group showed gains running to more than $2 a share and at one time was up even more. The advances were a follow-through to a smart rise yesterday and relatively limited improvement Monday and Tuesday.

Most other stocks attracted only perfunctory interest.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Industrials and base metal stocks moved ahead strongly as active buying advanced prices over a wide front on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Volume was about 1,500,000 shares.

Steels, papers, utilities and textiles were active and most stocks finished on the plus side in the industrial list. Liquors and refining oils were a little easier.

MONTREAL, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Securities shot ahead for the sixth consecutive session under comparatively heavy demand on the Montreal Stock Exchange and Curb market today.

A few issues stalled and gave ground near the final hour, but most of the issues either held on to their early gains or continued to climb.

City Roomer Is Stabbed During Early Morning Fight

Four blood transfusions today pumped new life into burly Jim Pappas, 9657-104 avenue, Roseberry hotel cook, after he nearly bled to death from knife wounds in a downtown hotel room last night.

He was remanded without plea for one week when he appeared in police court today.

Pappas was found lying in a pool of his own blood on the second-floor washroom of the Queens Hotel about 2:45 a.m. by Constables Geo. Watson and H. Walker. Blood also covered much of the floor of room 12 where the struggle took place.

There were no witnesses to the brawl in room 12, Queen's hotel, about 2 a.m. today.

Three other hotel guests on the same floor heard the sounds of struggling. One of them, Mike Chapman, saw Pappas in the washroom and witnessed his collapse.

He immediately gave the alarm to night clerk Dan Ragosky, 9525-103 avenue, who summoned Jack Hays ambulnace.

Another first floor tenant, Ted Edlund, Camrose, said he heard the brawl from his room next door, "but thought nothing of it and went back to sleep," according to the police report.

ACCUSED WATCHES

Kansky, the accused, was picked up by Constable T. Botsford with the assistance of Albert Smordol, Room 1 of the hotel, who had observed the heavy built man walking away from Room 12, at about 1:35 a.m.

Botsford and Smordol searching the hotel area in a prowler car, noticed blotches on Kansky's clothing when they saw him at 99 street and 104 avenue, 3:40 a.m.

On finding blotches were blood-stains, Botsford questioned him and took him to the police station.

Kansky refused any statement.

But a taxi-driver, Orville Strahan, 10015-89 street, said that Kansky had been an interested observer of the events which followed the brawl.

He said Kansky sat in his taxi at 98 street and Jasper for 10 minutes. When he saw the prowler car draw up outside Queen's hotel, he got out, looked into the police car and then watched while Pappas was placed in the ambulance.

The quiet, middle-aged Olson and his wife occupied a room last night next door to the one where the alleged murder attempt occurred.

Olson said this morning he had gone to bed between 10 and 11 p.m. and didn't know how long he had slept when he was awakened by bumping against the walls and the floor of the next room.

Insurance Firm Backs Purchase In Ball Club

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Connie Mack's two older sons, Roy and Earle, announced today they will buy controlling interest in the Philadelphia Athletics with the financial backing of the Connecticut Life Insurance Company.

Roy and Earle disclosed 10 days ago that they hold options on stock owned by their stepbrother, Connie Mack Jr., and the heirs of Benjamin F. and Thomas Shibe, partners with Connie Mack in establishing the club 50 years ago.

Extent of the life insurance firm's participation was not revealed.

Baseball sources here said that they knew of no previous instance in which a life insurance firm invested in a Major League baseball franchise.

Connie Mack Sr. will remain as manager of the A's and as a stockholder. Both Roy and Earle have said they want their father to continue as manager "as long as he wants to."

1,000 Red Troops Believed Trapped

Allies Push 13 Miles For Biggest Korean Gain

By Russell Brines

TOKYO, Aug. 11—(Friday)—(AP)—United States troops yesterday drove 13 miles almost to the outskirts of Chinju and snapped shut behind them an armored trap on possibly 1,000 enemy troops.

It was the biggest single day's gain of the war for American forces.

As Chinju, major enemy base in South Korea, tottered, North Koreans at the other end of the 140-mile front, rolled to within eight miles of a U.S. east coast fighter base before being halted.

Gen. MacArthur's war summary said South Koreans checked the enemy drive eight miles west of Pohang. The fighter base is near this city, 63 miles north of the port of Pusan.

The enemy also loosed new attacks along the northern front, putting renewed pressure on the important supply city of Taegu, 55 miles northwest of Pusan.

SOME RESISTANCE

They were advancing against resisting South Koreans on a front about 30 miles north of Taegu. The enemy still held a Naktong river bridgehead, 79 miles southwest of Taegu, against fierce American attacks. Another bridgehead 12 miles northwest of Taegu was reported wiped out.

U.S. Eighth Army leaders took hasty steps to protect the fighter plane base. It is eight miles southeast of Pohang on the Sea of Japan 55 miles north of Pusan.

Two Red forces rolled back crumbling South Korean troops there. Hal Boyle, Associated Press correspondent at Pohang, said the Reds were protected from American naval guns by lofty mountains in some of Korea's most rugged country.

The Pohang-bound Communists hammered down from Yongdok which they retook Thursday, and drove on four miles to the south.

The main threat to the fighter base came from another Red force rolling toward it from the mountain village of Kigye, eight miles northwest of Pohang. A North Korean patrol of 30 men

Cricket 11 Of Ontario Comes Back

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10—(CP)—After a shaky start that saw three wickets fall for only six runs, Ontario today came back strongly against Manitoba to make 118 for seven wickets at the luncheon period in the fourth day of the Dominion Cricket championships.

Going in at the crucial stage, he helped bring the score to 94 before being retired with a well-played 36. A. R. Cole's 20 runs was the next best effort.

In the other match between British Columbia and Alberta, the west coast eleven ran up 165 for seven wickets at the luncheon break. Top batsmen were Charlie Heap with 28, A. S. Hendy 22, and Peter Darling 13.

At the close of play yesterday, B.C. and Ontario had two victories against one loss, Alberta and Manitoba each had a 1-2 record.

MOM AND POP PLAY THE RACES

POP'S STAKE $78.50

My kind words about Regina and how much I liked it there since my win-streak started certainly paid off. My quinella choice of Rorito and Honest Moe turned out just like that to pay $10.60. And that extra money sure helped out on the vacation. Mom and I had a swell time, but we left enough for betting. And to start off the Edmonton two-week meeting tomorrow, I'll try two dollars to win on White Moss. Fortinghi's racing, there should be lots of fun.

MOM'S STAKE $58.75

How fast our finances can change! Just a short while ago I was ahead of Pop. Now that lucky man is over 20 bucks up on me. Things would have been different had I won the double and had he lost the quinella. Oh well, with the long meet at Alberta's capital city, I wouldn't be surprised if I came out on top. To start things off tomorrow, I'll bet two dollars to place on Great Leader. With a dampish track to contend with, Pop would be well advised to be careful.

ARGOS, BALMY BEACH TO EXCHANGE PLAYERS

TORONTO, Aug. 10. — (CP) — Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four today announced a plan for "exchange of players and other moves" designed to make a stronger club of Balmy Beach of the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

Harry Doughty, Argo public relations director, disclosed that the Beach franchise has been purchased from Bob Reid by a company to be known as Balmy Beach Football Club Ltd.

The shares, he said, would be held by provisional directors until the end of 1950.

Sportsmen speculated that this meant that the shares, or part of them, would revert to Argonauts. There have been rumors that the Beach franchise would be bought by Argos.

Purpose of the move announced today, Doughty said, I also develop Canadian players. There would be no Argo interference in the operation of the Beach team.

Army Brass Start Talks On Brigade

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—(BUP)—The army assigned its top brains today to find how Canada's special service brigade can be turned into a tough, hard-hitting combat team with a minimum of delay.

Brigadier J. M. Rockingham, peacetime transportation company executive and a "Second World" War hero who was named brigade commander yesterday, was scheduled to arrive here today by plane from his Victoria, B.C. home for the talks.

He will be met at Rockcliffe airport by Gen. Howard Graham, army vice-chief of staff, and taken immediately to defence headquarters to confer with Lt. Gen. Charles Foulkes, chief of the general staff.

An army spokesman said Rockingham, known throughout the army as "Rock", later would start a round of top-level conferences with other key officials in the defence department.

Already more than half of the required 5,000 men needed for the brigade have volunteered for service on the understanding that they will be sent to Korea or anywhere else the United Nations decides they are needed.

Defence Minister Brooke Claxton said the "anywhere else" could mean duty in support of North Atlantic Pact nations.

The army reported that during Tuesday and Wednesday more than 2,200 men applied at recruiting centres across Canada. More than half were veterans of European and Mediterranean theatres of the Second World War. The 2,200 included 143 potential re-enlisted officers.

Compromise Offer Made Rail Unions

Implementation of 44-Hour Week at 'Appropriate' Time

MONTREAL, Aug. 10—(CP)—The railways today made a compromise offer to their 124,000 strike-assenting employes, stipulating that if it is not accepted all compromise offers are withdrawn.

Recognition by railways management of moral obligation to implement the 44-hour week at the appropriate time.

Recognition by the unions in principle, subject to negotiation in detail, of 10 amendments to existing contracts.

MANY CONDITIONS

"Either (A) a 44-hour basic work week with a 9.1-per cent increase in hourly rates so as to maintain take- home pay. In regard to monthly-rated clerical employes there will be an understanding that a five-day actual work week may be granted by local arrangement in selected cases where the hours now actually worked are less than 44, on condition that the requirements of the service are protected up to 44 hours per week.

"Or (B) an increase in basic wage rates approximately equivalent in expense to that involved under plan (A). This would average 8½ cents per hour on the average but it is to be graduated in three steps so as to provide for:

(1) a maximum hourly or monthly wage increase. (2) Lesser amounts in specific cases where it is necessary; (A) to avoid raising the occupational rates still further above those paid in outside industry for comparable work. (B) To widen the differential between successive positions so as to provide a reasonable incentive for advancement."

The offer was made personally to the full negotiating committees of the two union groups by Donald Gordon, president of the Canadian National Railway, on behalf of himself and W. A. Mather, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The 15 international unions and two Canadian unions have authorized a strike Aug. 22 unless their demands are satisfactorily dealt with.

There was no comment from union officials following the meeting. The parties will meet again at 4 p.m.

Two conciliation boards originally heard the demands of the men, all connected with the non-running trades. The international unions asked a wage increase of seven cents an hour and a 40-hour week, instead of the present 48-hour week with no reduction in take-home pay.

The Canadian unions sought the 40-hour week, checkoff of union dues and a 10-cent hourly increase in wages.

TWO ARE OUT

The recommendations of the conciliation boards for both groups were: a 44-hour week and wage increases which would not in all cases mean the same pay as a 48-hour week.

The recommendations were accepted by the companies and rejected by union leaders.

Later the railways offered a compromise beyond the conciliation boards' recommendations, suggesting a 44-hour week with no reduction in take-home pay.

Today's "final offer" excluded hotel and water transport employes. Those affected are such as clerks, maintenance men, shop workers, express employes and commercial and railway telegraphers of the companies directly concerned.

Mr. Gordon was blunt and forthright in setting forth the compromise offer.

Mayor Seeks More Police For Traffic

But Mayor Sid Parsons says he will press immediately for additional men to do the job.

Commenting on yesterday's Bulletin stories which revealed many traffic violators among both pedestrians and motorists, he said commissioners have been so busy with the Detwiler Miracle Mile project that they have had no time to deal with Chief Constable Reg Jennings' report on police force strength.

SEVERAL TIMES

"We have tried several times to get a meeting to deal with the chief's request for additional men and equipment," he said.

"I hope commissioners will be finished with the Detwiler hearing in the next day or so. As soon as possible after that we will call a meeting with the police chief."

"I hope that Chief Jennings will have sufficient men as soon as possible to enforce the traffic bylaw in all its phases," said the mayor.

CAN'T SAY NOW

"We as commissioners will make our recommendation to council after meeting with Chief Jennings, but I can't say now what council's decision will be."

The mayor pointed out that ignorance of traffic bylaws is something he has been fighting for some time—and former Mayor Harry Ainlay had done the same thing.

"You will remember the numerous times I have appealed publicly to motorists to respect pedestrians' right-of-way on crosswalks, as well as the repeated appeals to pedestrians to stop their dangerous habit of 'jaywalking,'" he said.

Labor Congresses Rap Union Reds

CCL, TLC Jointly Condemns Reds for Sowing Confusion

OTTAWA, Aug. 10—(CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and the Canadian Congress of Labor, representing about 900,000 workers, today looses a joint attack on union Communists attempting to undermine United Nations police action in Korea.

Calling for full support for UN and Canadian measures on Korea, they denounced Communists in unions for trying to sow confusion among union members to help Russia.

The unusual action of a joint statement by the rival congresses was taken by TLC president Percy R. Bengough and CCL president A. R. Mosher. Only a few times previously have the congresses taken common action in this way.

VIGOROUS FIGHT

The two labor chiefs, whose organizations have been waging a vigorous fight against Reds in labor's ranks, said:

"In the firm conviction that the steps taken by our own country, Britain, the United States and other members of the United Nations are designed to restore peace in Korea and uphold the dignity and authority of international law in the settlement of disputes between the countries of the world, we call upon all of our affiliated membership to give these measures their unqualified support."

$150,000 Fire Hits Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10. — (CP) — Fire last night raged unchecked for 5½ hours through an old, four-storey manufacturing building on Market Street in downtown Winnipeg. Damage was estimated at $150,000.

Seventy-five firemen from four stations battled billowing grimy smoke from 6:25 p.m. until almost midnight, when the blaze was brought under control. No one was injured.

Seven firms had space in the building, including a Nash Motors parts depot and several garment-manufacturing concerns.

Fire officers said the blaze started in the east section of the building and fed on leather, cotton and wool. Most damage was confined to the second and third floors.

Afflicted Three-Year-Old Lives On Borrowed Blood

By WILLIAM H. B SON
Exclusive to The Bulletin

Her bones are solid. They have no marrow. Because of this, her body cannot manufacture the necessary corpuscles.

If little Irene Waters does not receive two pints of fresh blood every two weeks she will die. As her body grows, she will need even more transfusions.

Until this week, the child's plight was known only to her family, friends and physicians. Her father, George A. Waters, a hatchery worker, and her mother, a drug store cashier, had refused to let her become an object of public sympathy.

LIFE AND DEATH

"But," Mrs. Waters said today, "it's boiled down now to a question of life or death for Irene." The couple has asked for help.

They already owe for 41 pints of blood, which costs $25 a pint. In addition, Irene must have daily injections of penicillin and auromycin.

EYES HAMPERED

The rare ailment has brought another complication. Irene's eyes have not developed past the primary stages. They cannot focus. She will never be able to do more than distinguish between light and darkness.

But she is friendly and talkative and plays as normally as possible with her six-year-old sister Joanne.

"Poor little kid," her father said. "It breaks my heart to think of the life she faces and me unable to do anything for her."

Wig Wags Sought At Rail Crossing

Scene of Fire Truck-Train Mishap May Be Improved

Installation of a wig wag warning signal and improvement of vision at the railway crossing at 126 avenue and 95 street was recommended today by city safety director H. D. Davidson.

The level crossing was the scene of an accident last week when a city fire truck struck a locomotive, sending six men to hospital.

The safety director recommended removal of brush and trees to improve vision, lessening of the grade on the approaches so that headlights would be lowered to focus on the crossing, and a new position for a nearby sign.

Also recommended was removal of a streetlight which lessens visibility and prohibition of railway car storage within 100 feet of the crossing.

Venezuela has a population of 4,500,000 distributed in an area larger than Texas and Louisiana.

Five Towns Get Sewers

Sewer and water systems will be installed in five more Alberta towns through funds provided under the government's Self Liquidating Projects Act.

Deputy provincial treasurer K. J. Hawkins said today government authorities have approved five applications to borrow a total of $400,500.

Latest towns to borrow are Rocky Mountain House, $55,000; Grimshaw, $50,000; Two Hills, $47,500; Hardisty, $88,000 and Bonnyville $150,000.

Collective Bargaining Killed By Labor Laws?

Alberta's laws have killed collective bargaining between cities and their employes in opinion of Mayor Sid Parsons.

The mayor expressed his views last night as finance committee deferred consideration of Edmonton firemen's request that council agree to changes in provincial legislation governing wage disputes.

POOR BASIS

The discussion prompted Mayor Sid Parsons and Commissioner John Hodgson to remark that collective bargaining no longer existed between cities and their employees.

Mayor Sid Parsons said conciliation was now "on a damn poor basis when employes went to so-called collective bargaining meetings with thoughts in their minds that they could ultimately go to arbitration or conciliation.

Legislative changes to which the firemen asked the city to agree would provide that both city and its fire and police unions would agree in advance to accept awards of conciliation boards.

NEGOTIATIONS

Mayor Parsons said he had sat for three days with union representatives, agreeing all along the line about relative wage brackets for relative jobs. But when it came to a general overall increase, the city was up against the union statement that, "we'll go to a board."

"It kills collective bargaining to refer it to conciliation or arbitration," he said.

"How can we ever pass estimates and set the mill rate intelligently under the present setup, when negotiations drag over long periods after the budget is presented in the spring?" asked the mayor.

Taxi Fares To Increase

Edmonton taxi fares are now set to join the upward spiral of prices and costs—after 20 years at the same level.

An increase in basic rates was approved last night by city council's finance committee, after a five and one-half month running debate, and needs only approval by Monday's full council meeting for ratification.

The new schedule will call for a 50-cent fare for one and one-third miles, with a 10-cent charge for each additional third of a mile.

Present rate is 50 cents for anything up to two miles, with 10 cents for each additional third of a mile.

On a two-mile run the new fare would be 70 cents against the present 50 cents, and a ride which previously cost $2.00 would in future cost $2.20.

Farley Awarded Can Contract

Finance committee last night gave the long-disputed street corner refuse can contract to Frank Farley.

Mr. Farley, holder of the contract for 25 years, will have a one-year contract beginning Nov. 1, 1951, in return for which he will pay the city $5 per can.

City commissioners had recommended for a second time that firm of Edwards and Arnason be given a five-year contract which would have guaranteed the city $10 per can per year plus share of profits.

Monday night's council meeting will has to approve the finance committee's recommendations.

The bleachers will be ready for the first league football game August 26, the superintendent stated.

Veterans Leading Way As Brigade Recruited

Reserve army officers in Edmonton predicted the second battalion of the PPCLI's might end up with 75 per cent veterans, the figure cited by Maj.-Gen. Penhale as an ideal objective.

Reserve units do not parade during the summer so that it is impossible to determine numbers of volunteers from the reserve. A large turnout is expected, they said.

Among the veterans who yesterday applied for service was Art Robinson, 15415 Stony Plain road, formerly a platoon sergeant overseas with the Loyal Edmonton Regiment.

"I feel it's better to put a stop to the fighting now, rather than let it go on," he commented.

Clair Ellis, 25, a former "tanker" who has been driving a bus since the war, said: "I just got restless and would like to go. I like the idea of a world police force and would like to serve on it."

Otto Pawloski, 28, a commercial photographer who was an RCAF clerk, commented: "I want to be where the action is if there's going to be any this time."

Bernard Cluff, 20, of 10344-105 street, had only his high school cadet training to recall.

"I had five brothers in the last one," he said. "I guess this is my turn."

Applicants are interviewed and given intelligence and aptitude tests in Edmonton and are then sent to Currie barracks, Calgary, to go through joining routine.

"Within two days they're sworn in, outfitted, and in training," an army spokesman stated.

Edmonton leads the prairie provinces cities in the number of recruits per capita who have volunteered during the first two days of recruiting this week.

One hundred forty seven men applied in Edmonton for the special expeditionary brigade and the regular active army on Tuesday and Wednesday, recruiting officers reported. The large majority of these volunteered for the special force.

The group was greeted at the CNR station by H. W. Gregory, postmaster; T. J. Reilly, district inspector, and J. M. Watson, public relations officer.

The victim, Augustus Goodie, 12601-69 street, said he was walking under a subway on the Fort trail when he was grabbed around the neck and thrown to the ground.

The other removed the money from his pockets while a woman accompanying the men looked on, he said.

Nothing Official On Settlement

An immigration department official in Ottawa said today he did not know of any plans to bring 2,000,000 members of Netherland farm families to Western Canada.

Crews Escape As Two Freight Trains Crash

Investigation is being conducted by Canadian National Railway officials into the cause of a crash at St. Paul Junction, two and a half miles northeast of Edmonton Wednesday.

The two freight crews involved escaped injury as their trains sideswiped when both were travelling toward Edmonton, knocking an empty freight car into the ditch and derailing a fully loaded tank car.

The loaded tank car carrying 100,000 pounds of crude oil from the Redwater field, though not upset was derailed by the impact but the other 35 cars in the train held the track.

The empty freight car was knocked off its tracks and thrown on its side in the ditch. The front end of the empty gravel car right behind was knocked off its trucks. The rear end of the car remained on the tracks.

Witnesses said the accident occurred at 4:45 p.m. just after the freight train from Vermilion with a number of empties and some loaded oil and asphalt tankers passed the switch where the two lines join at the juncture.

The second freight train with tank cars from Redwater reached the switch as the first train passed. The diesel engine knocked the box car and gravel car from the tracks.

Five Expert Views

Five expert views of the Miracle Mile project are presented in the evidence offered by Mayor Sidney Parsons, by Town Planner Noel Dant, by City Commissioners Hodgson and Menzies, by the Chamber of Commerce report and the survey made for the Chamber by Dean Andrew Stewart.

These five professional views of the question that the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners is called upon to answer are solidly and entirely in the affirmative.

Dean Andrew Stewart, speaking as an economist of international repute, has stated flatly that the financial aspects of the agreement between the city and the First New Amsterdam Corporation are economically sound and represent the best bargain the city could make with capital.

The Chamber of Commerce, representing the commercial, industrial and professional life of the city, has endorsed the agreement with the amendments it suggested and which have been approved by the Corporation.

City Commissioners Hodgson and Menzies, as competent and experienced civic experts, speak warmly in favor of the project.

Mayor Parsons, elected head of the city's administration, gives the city centre plan endorsement, not only as a commissioner, but as one chosen by ballot to interpret the public view.

And finally Town Planner Noel Dant, as a noted town planning expert of wide experience, has unreservedly approved the plan as being necessary to the balanced and economical development of Edmonton.

Here, then, are five expert views, that of the public, that of the economist, that of civic experience, that of the commercialist and industrialist and that of the scientific town planner, all committed to the proposition that the project is in the best interests of Edmonton as a whole.

We have referred to these presentations as "views". But they are more than "views" in the sense that Commissioner Blackstock outlined the type of evidence he demanded.

For each one has been accompanied by concrete testimony to add substance to the reasoning.

From these five varying approaches to the problem, one learns that the agreement is eminently fair and reasonable, that the project will make more money for the city than the normal processes of taxation would do, that it will rehabilitate a dying section of the city and maintain real estate values, that by offering parking facilities it will be a boon to every merchant in the district.

This is the testimony of established experts.

How is it possible that the affirmative conclusion, arrived at through five different approaches, could be wrong.

United Nations and the War

Replies from 41 of the 59 members of the United Nations indicate with somewhat chilly clarity that the United Nations cannot be regarded as a power capable of imposing peace on Russia.

Bolivia, for instance, has offered 30 army officers. Denmark will send an ambulance detachment. Ecuador will give strategic materials and medicinal supplies. Afghanistan declines all aid. India offers a field ambulance and a surgical unit. Iran, Syria and Iraq express their regrets. Sweden will equip a field hospital.

Now the reluctance of some of the 41 to participate actively in the Korean campaign is not to be laid to indifference.

France and Greece, for example, are in the line of potential European fire. And Turkey, with her offer of 4,500 men, is gallant indeed to weaken her home defences in the face of a constant, direct threat from Russia.

It only means that we are not to expect a general international rallying around the banner of the UN.

The menace is too extended, there are too many possible fronts to direct the entire UN force against aggression in one specific spot.

But the UN is not in itself a force capable of resisting imperialist Russia, it can still play a vital part as a focus for common action and as a point of common contact where common opinion can be formulated.

This fact emphasizes the value of United States leadership in the crisis.

It is fortunate for the world that if this leadership is not supported by the arms of the democratic world it is still supported by the good will and token assistance of nations to which the UN has given a common viewpoint and a common objective.

Russia and the Facts of Life

The expected resignation of former Vice-President Henry Wallace from the Communist party of the United States is clear indication that one more theoretical Communist has discovered at last the true objectives of Soviet Russia.

Wallace has ostensibly split with the party over its attitude on aggression in Korea. He is not prepared to follow the rest of the Communist group in condemning the action of the United States as aggressive.

This does not make Henry Wallace any the less a Communist.

But it does make him the kind of a Communist that refuses to identify that quaint creed with the imperialistic objectives of Russia.

For Wallace has obviously made the painful discovery that Russia is not so intent upon making the world Communist as upon making the world a Russian colony.

If his mind works in a logical manner, the second sequential discovery will follow shortly; that a political and economic doctrine must be fundamentally unsound if it is capable of being used to mask the plans of a greedy and barbaric nation for world conquest.

Wallace has made an honest choice between his own country and Russia.

It is inevitable that he will be called upon sooner or later to make a choice between Russia's chimerical political philosophy and the political philosophy of the democracies.

If one breeds conquest while the other breeds peace, the choice should not be hard to make.

Reason For Crowded Buses

Editor, Bulletin — After spending some four months in Vancouver, it is now quite apparent to me why there is so great overcrowding of ETS buses (of which there are too few).

The pulling up of so much car rails point an appreciable number of buses is the cause.

Vancouver is not pulling up all rails until the BCER considers it can meet the serious problem of moving hordes of workers to and fro with reasonable speed, comfort and safety. They expect to pull the last rail in 1952.

At present, streetcars are, along with buses, still doing a major job in rush hours on some routes in various sections of the city.

For instance, had the rails of the ETS been kept intact for the present—118 and 124 to Jasper to 101 to 107 to 124 and so on—the ever-overcrowding bus at present could have been greatly relieved until such times as a reasonable number of buses could be put in service. As it is now, there is most of the time, enough traffic off the Calder bus to fill the 118-124 buses.

Of the few good words I say about Vancouver, the most of them are in great praise of the super-efficiency of the BCER's transportation system.

Declining Dollar

Editor, Bulletin—In just a little over one month startling changes have taken place in the economy of the United States of America. That country, although not admitting that a world war is imminent, is moving rapidly towards the conditions which existed there in World War II, and it would appear that wage price controls may not be very far away. Congress has acted with amazing rapidity towards adopting measures to check inflation and many members seem to be in favor of rolling back prices to the June 30 level. They are on the job. But in Canada it is holiday time, and of course nothing must interfere with holidays—especially those of our politicians. In the meantime our prices are merrily rising and show no signs of stopping and government officials view the situation with equanimity. However, it is heartening to read that the C.C.L. has sent a strong protest to the Prime Minister on this matter, but as the labor vote does not mean as much to the present government as does the farm vote no doubt Mr. St. Laurent will make a disarming and reassuring statement in reply to the effect that there is no immediate danger in present price increases. In the meantime the purchasing value of our dollar gets lower and lower.

This is no time to play politics. Prices are being pushed up deliberately in order to forestall government action and there is a smell of profiteering in the air. In order to finance our armament bill we shall be called upon to pay more taxes, but as this will be insufficient to meet such expenditure we shall be asked to buy more bonds, thus making the National Debt to even higher astronomical figures which will lead to more printing press money being issued. And the consequent devaluation of our currency. Thus only price and wage controls can save us from the effects of ruinous inflation. Canadian prices must and should be, rolled back to at least those of June 30th. And rents must again be frozen in order to forestall a situation which may lead to chaos if this is not done. The world is in a revolutionary mood and Canada is not necessarily immune from these conditions. Don't let us play into the hands of the Communists by allowing our economy to collapse of its own weight.

Standard Currency

Editor, Bulletin: It is reported that Mr. R. G. Mackay, member of Parliament for Reading, England, is placing before the Council for Europe, to which body he is the British delegate, his plan for a standard European currency. His proposal is that a central European bank be established with capital subscribed by the participating countries from their existing gold reserves; this bank to control the issue of the new currency which would replace all of the present currencies and act as the recognied international banking authority.

This plan was suggested by me more than a year ago in a letter to the Times, London, England, for which I received editorial acknowledgement. Mr. Mackay even goes so far as to suggest that the new currency should be called the European Gold Dollar; a slight variation from my suggestion that it might be termed the International Trade Dollar. It is not reported that Mr. Mackay follows my original suggestion that an international currency of this kind should be made par with the United States dollar. This is important in view of the fact that it would influence the repayment of American loans and serve to facilitate international export and export transactions. Although I am pleased to note that my idea is now being put forward it remains that it is another instance of an experience that is only too common. It is not what is said but who says it that is of importance.

Action Needed

Editor, Bulletin—At this date in world history, millions of numans wait with abated breath the outcome of the struggle in Korea, which can well be the turning point on which depends the fate of free peoples the world over.

For a month now that struggle has raged, with the forces of aggression sweeping the defenders of the last bastion of freedom on the eastern shores of Asia, ever nearer to a second "Dunkirk."

Early in the struggle some of the free nations of the world, (especially the U.S.A.), rallied to the call of the United Nations, and hastened to the defence of that unhappy land. We in Canada, who, above all people, hate aggression, have, with the exception of sending a few planes and three destroyers, done little else but fold our arms and talk.

If the free nations of the world do not soon rally in force to the call for help which was sent out early in this crisis by the UN they are going to repeat the old mistake of acting too late with too little; a mistake which, during the last two world wars, has caused the early death of millions of youthful Frenchmen, Britons and Americans, including a hundred thousand and more of Canada's finest sons.

No sane man in the free world can help but brand the North Koreans as the aggressors. Even if we concede that the North had occasion for argument to settle wrongs with the South, they could have settled them through the UN without resorting to force of arms. But they didn't. And while we here in Canada hedge and talk, the very way of life that so many of our youth have died to preserve is being jeopardized.

At this point in my letter I have stayed my pen long enough to listen to a broadcast by our Dominion premier. In his talk he gave me some hope that Canada will yet awake in time to do her share before it is too late.

Winnipeg Goldeye Met Once More

WINNIPEG, Man. — One of life's most rewarding experiences is to sit before a table in the hushed and slightly solemn atmosphere of the dining room of Winnipeg's Royal Alexandra Hotel and make a pig of yourself with Winnipeg Goldeye.

The hotel itself doesn't compare with other, more modern railway hostels in Canada (for one thing it's so close to the transcontinental tracks that a sleepless guest once phoned the desk and asked what time his room reached Regina), but the dining room is my favorite of all, being frankly old-fashioned and perfectly suited to a reverential consumption of Amphidon Alosoides.

Amphidon Alosoides, or Winnipeg Goldeye, is the world's finest eatin' smoked panfish, a statement one may make boldly, and one made frequently by distinguished visitors to Winnipeg, including H. V. Kaltenborn, a bold-statement maker from away back.

I Determined To Come Back

Along with every other correspondent who converged on Winnipeg to cover the big flood this spring I indulged in a Goldeye orgy and determined that if I ever came back I'd find something of the background of this splendid fish.

Of course the Royal Alex has no monopoly on the delicacy. Indeed, Albert Zanzig, the retired maitre d'hotel of the Fort Garry Hotel (who insisted on serving them with the heads on and moaned at the necessity of offering them without a suitable white wine) is generally credited with being the No. 1 Goldeye salesman.

The fish are also on sale over the counter in these parts at 70 cents the pound or three for about a dollar and are just as delicious cooked on a Coleman stove as anywhere else. On this my research is not to be questioned.

I introduced my gang to Goldeye last night at the Royal Alex, successfully passing on my passion for that delicate flavor and firm, blushing flesh, and then retire to the kitchen to bow and scrape before the chef, who accepted my plaudits with becoming modesty.

Meet Horace Skilletmaster

The hotel's chef is one Horace Swain, who has been doing excellent things with Goldeye since 1922.

He is a precise, smooth-skinned man who looks, except for the great white cap, like Hollywood's idea of The Famous Surgeon, and is anxious not to be quoted too directly on controversial points.

M. Swain favors a Goldeye of about 18 ounces and 12 inches in length and usually gives the fish about eight minutes in a steam chest, serving with a strip of grilled bacon and maitre d'hotel butter in which ice cold chicken broth, lemon juice and parsley are subtly blended.

There are, however, a great many other ways of serving the fish, including grilling, in which the Goldeye is slightly toasted, or, again, poached (recommended for Coleman stoves).

M. Swain—oh, excellent fellow!—also has a superb recipe for Goldeye a la Creble with a Spanish sauce and Goldeye Feupiette, in which the fish is gently baked in paper.

Trimmingo Colorful

He occasionally has calls from gourmets for a Marinate of Goldeye in which the Goldeye is filleted and placed tenderly in a bed of lettuce leaf with red and green peppers, celery, sliced tomatoes and French dressing. "Sharp French dressing," M. Swain adds.

The chef, himself, occasionally finds a Goldeye or two left over from the day and sits down in his office, hows them to the east, and despatches same without trimmings. Indeed, he and I split one right from the ice chest in this manner, and it was How you say?—superb.

Part of the joy of Goldeye is doing your own filleting, since a knife takes away the sunset-colored outer skin as if by magic and the tender meat then may be parted delicately from the skeleton in an operation so clean that one marvels that a fish so handsome should be so obliging architecturally.

Fifty-odd years ago when Goldeye were as common as frankfurters the fish was not considered anything special and nobody dreamed that someday they'd be a $4.50 delicacy on the Stork Club menu.

$4.50 A Plate At Stork Club

Traditionally, the Goldeye is from Lake Winnipeg (fishermen drop their nets through the ice from portable heated shacks, I'm told), but in recent years the Goldeye have been running thin in Manitoba and most of the supply now comes from Lac Claire, near Athabaska Lake, in northern Alberta. Some even come here from Reginold.

The "processing," as they call it, is a Winnipeg specialty and apparently as secret as the formula for Coca-Cola. Goldeye is a silver-colored sort of bass, but when it is smoked over smoldering scrub oak bush and tinted, it takes on the bronze-gold color and its flavor.

Chef Swain can't remember when he was last asked for fresh Goldeye, which he defines as "salt and saltpetre." I've been invited to see how this processing is done, but I think I'll skip it. Does the strawberry visit the alphabet?

In the course of a normal day M. Swain may serve three or four dozen Goldeye, but sometimes, for banquets, he will have three to four hundred. Mr. Swain likes those days. There are always a few left over for M. Swain.

Oh, yes. Winnipeg Goldeye is a fine game fish when taken on a light tackle and responds to either a wet or dry fly. But it's a lot simpler just to sit in the Royal Alex dining room and give your order, softly and thoughtfully, to a waiter.

Smiles

"Yes," he said, proudly, "I caught the biggest fish of my career last night. It was a bass and weighed seven pounds, two ounces."

His small son, who had been listening, chipped in: "Yes, and Daddy was so kind, he gave it to my kitten."

"I met a nice young man in the train," she said, "and he offered to give me the winner of the St. Leger."

"And did he?" asked one.

"Naturally, I thanked him very much, but I explained that the chickens take up so much of the garden that it would be quite impossible for us to keep a horse."

Never having worn a pair of shoes in her life, the mountain-dwellers were tough as leather themselves. Her husband stretched out on the cabin floor, watching her stir the stew in the fireplace, laboriously lifted a hand to remove his cornob. "Maw," he said, "best move your foot. That's some live ashes under it."

ODDS AND ENDS

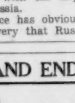
By Harold L. Weir

Mystery of the Month: How Did the Vicar Know?

This is, perhaps, the most delicate subject with which I have ever endeavored to deal in this modest and secluded corner.

It raises a point which may bring down upon this silvered head the wrath of the righteous.

It may involve me in serious ecclesiastical difficulties. It may cause me to become a pariah among the godly.



WEIR

But I conceive it to be my stern duty to raise this point and so I raise it, let the chips fall where they may.

This point to which I refer arises from the comments of a London vicar in his parish magazine about the appalling appearance of women after they get themselves ready for bed.

This vicar, the Reverend Eric Bailey, writes:

"The hair is gathered up into a kind of net strapped under the chin, and the face and neck are smeared with cream.

"I cannot help thinking that this may be the cause of some marriage breakdowns."

Now the Reverend Eric Bailey is described in the press as a middle-aged bachelor.

So the point that strikes me squarely between the eyes is simply this:

Obscure Point

Now the story from which these facts are gleaned emanates from the eminently respectable Reuters' news service, and the eminently respectable and God-fearing young men who compose these pieces for the wire have stopped at nothing to inject into the account which says that the Reverend Eric arrived at his iconoclastic conclusion "after attendance at a beauty demonstration for young wives."

Is Reuters, may I ask, endeavoring to imply that in any conceivable beauty demonstration the models actually got themselves up in chin-straps and grease for the delectation of the public?

I doubt it very much.

In any beauty show I have ever seen, the models have been meticulously careful to preserve all the illusions whereby feminininity baits its age-old trap.

They move with studied grace. They assume a melting languor and flaunt their enamelled paint in an expression of consummate sweetness.

Innocence dwells in the depths of their lovely eyes. And they hold their ruby lips so primly that one instinctively knows that they wouldn't say "mud" if they had a mouthful of it.

I am quite unable to believe that anyone posing in a beauty demonstration could be induced to appear in pincurls and a coating of grease.

All this being so, the Reverend Eric still holds the bag. How did he know what women wear at night?

Devious Explanation

Outside of actually vilifying the character of the Reverend Eric, which I am not for one moment prepared to do, I can find three possible explanations for his extraordinary knowledge of such things.

He may, for example, live with a bevy of maiden aunts who dash about the vicarage raiding the icebox after they prepare themselves for their nocturnal rest.

Vicars, I believe, usually have maiden aunts. It is part of the cross a vicar bears.

Again, the Reverend Eric may have contracted the habit of calling late on his parishioners and knocking them up for a convivial cup of tea.

In that case, of course, he may have seen a good many of the ladies of his parish in the chin straps and cold cream to which he so severely refers.

The third possibility is that the Reverend Eric has been vouchsafed this knowledge in a vision.

Where ordinary men would dream of nymphs and dryads, a vicar would quite naturally dream modest dreams of ladies in hairnets and a coating of cream.

I incline to this latter view, holding that the Reverend Eric has been endowed with this knowledge by some miraculous means, because his contention is so eminently right that there must be some divine sanction behind it.

To me this is the most alarming discrepency on the face of the earth, that ladies who look so lovely at the altar should get themselves up like oily harridans for the purpose of going to bed.

Hot Springs Boomed As Winter Resort

This little haven in the Sinclair Canyon is full of refugees from Banff and Lake Louise who have been driven out by the mosquitoes.

But here, believe it or not, there is not a single mosquito; not a screen on any window and not a screen needed.

Pending a full report from Sherlock Holmes here is my own guess as to the explanation.

The Sinclair River comes leaping down from the mountains with such abandon that no mosquito egg has a chance to hatch out in peace. And if any stray mosquito flies in near the hot water pool and takes even a tiny drink of the water—apoo—fini—he's all washed up. The radio activity in the water is just too much for mosquitoes and other bug pests.

But Humans Thrive On It

The men who worked all last winter on the construction project tell me that they had some grand times in the open air hot pool when the air temperature was 45 degrees below zero.

Nobody has ever been known to catch a cold after emerging from the hot pool, winter or summer. The local theory to explain this is that you get so thoroughly heated through in the pool that you carry your own furnace inside your bloodstream for the next few hours.

Incidentally, the above is not kidding. It is also in line with the findings of the Japanese, who are the greatest hot water lovers in the world. They too claim that you just can't catch cold after emerging from the open air hot baths.

Japs Can Stand Hotter Water

The Japanese, by the way, can stand much hotter water than can the rest of us. Here at Radium the hot water pours out of the Rocky Mountains at 114 degrees.

But it cools off rapidly in the big pool, that is, the further away from the intake you are, the cooler.

In really cold weather nature acts as a hatter to the users of this pool. Icicles form on the hair of bathers, especially after they have come out.

The pool itself gives off clouds of steam, so thick you can see only a few feet.

With the pure white snow on the mountains, the red rocks, and the evergreen trees the place is almost unbelievably beautiful in winter. In fact, I have always claimed that it has the makings of a far better winter resort than a summer resort.

B.C. Economist Attacks Planning and an increase of three mills even if there are profits.

The present mill rate is 49.5.

MUST ADD VALUE

He explained his estimates of mill rate increase as being based on what the city would have to charge for tax losses it would incur over the period of the agreement.

He submitted the city would have to strike its tax rate on the assumption of adding the assessment value of the project to the present assessment total.

SEES INCREASE

Dr. Clarke said his analysis showed that a mill rate of 53 mills would be required on the basis of an anticipated $365,350 profit to the city in the first year of the project's operation.

This would represent a raise of approximately three and one-half mills over the existing rate.

He said he considered the agreement bad for the city even while taking into consideration the benefits of the project, such as an auditorium and parking space for 1,800 cars.

DANGER SEEN

Shopping centres on the city's outskirts that would provide parking space for thousands of cars will place a permanent blight on downtown Edmonton if the Detwiler project is rejected at this time, Mayor Parsons said.

"In the main, I consider this proposal the best that could be devised for all the citizens of Edmonton. Whether it is in the best interests of 150,000 persons is the point at issue, and not the interests of one group or business or individual.

"If the plan is not accepted now it will not be long before somebody with money sets up a shopping centre in an outside area.

There will be space for parking cars by the thousands, and if that ever happens what is going to take place in the central business area?"

NOT OPPOSED

The mayor said in reply to F. W. Race, representative of the Edmonton Property Owners' Association, that he is not opposed to a vote being taken by the burgesses on the project but stated:

"If it goes to a vote I want to see that the project is presented to the voters without color or prejudice, with all the facts clearly depicted in the advertising of the vote."

The mayor was asked if the site would not at least pay land taxes to the city if used solely as a car parking area.

He did not agree this would be the case and said a straight surface parking area would be extremely unsightly and far from the idea of a good civic centre.

George Bryan, counsel for T. Eaton (Western Limited), department store, and Mr. Ross both questioned Mayor Parsons about the setup of the New Amsterdam Corp.

MAYOR SATISFIED

The mayor admitted he had not inquired into the financial status of the corporation but said he was satisfied with investigations that had been made by Commissioner John Hodgson and others.

He felt the deal was a fair one because of the huge investment of $28,000,000.

Mr. Bryan pointed out that if the city realizes an estimated $36,000,000 profit in 60 years the Detwiler interests will make $100,000,000.

The mayor said he understood the corporation's profit had to provide costs of financing.

Mr. Bryan replied that this was not the case under terms of the agreement.

Mayor was asked by Mr. Bryan if the project's tenants would not have an unfair advantage in bad times because of tax concessions.

NOT CONCESSIONS

The mayor said he does not admit corporation had received tax concessions in broad sense, and added:

"In future, business will go where parking space is provided, regardless of where that may be."

Mayor Parsons was asked about the final vote in city council on the Detwiler agreement, Mr. Bryan suggesting it carried by a 5-4 margin. The mayor said it was six to four.

When Mr. Bryan suggested the mayor's vote is only recorded in cases of deadlock, witness replied:

"That is not so. I am privileged to vote with the body."

It was suggested that the city's estimates of profits from the project were arrived at on the basis of no tax increases in future. The mayor said usual assessment procedure has been followed.

IS BENEFICIAL

When Mr. Race asked Mayor Parsons if there is any good reason why the Detwiler project shouldn't pay full taxes, Chairman G. M. Blackstock said Mr. Race was "going too far."

"The legislature has already given the city power to enter such a deal. It isn't a question of TAXES, BUT THE WHOLE PICTURE MUST BE LOOKED AT,' HE SAID.

"I think the proper question would be: 'Since the city has power to do this, is it wise to exercise it?' "

Mayor Parsons said he thinks it is beneficial to the citizens of Edmonton to do so.

ON ATOM BOMBS

He said very little construction would be interfered with by the Detwiler project, since to his knowledge the Tower building conversion is the only major office-building enterprise carried out here since the war.

"That was done only after the federal government had agreed to rent the space," he said. "If the demand for space is so great why hasn't the space been built?"

Mr. Race asked him if, in an atom-bomb age, decentralization would not be better than centralization.

"In this age we can't escape through decentralization, because there must be groupings of buildings even with decentralization, and those must be serviced with main trunk utilities. These themselves are vulnerable—and not only to a-bombs, but to the bombs that were used even back in the First World War," replied the mayor.

Dr. Clark, assistant professor of economics at University of British Columbia, said that "generally speaking, the weight of public finance opinion is strongly opposed to municipalities granting any tax concessions."

He said he holds Bachelor of Commerce, Bachelor of Arts, and a Doctor of Philosophy degrees, the latter from Harvard where he specialized in economics of municipal finance. He said he has travelled extensively across Canada studying financial problems of municipalities and cities.

DONE MUCH WORK

He is also a member of Vancouver's committee of business tax, set up in 1948, and has done considerable consulting work.

He quoted text books to show that tax concessions or other inducements to business enterprises are entered at the expense of the general wage earner.

Legislation in B.C., Alberta, Manitoba (excepting the city of Winnipeg), Ontario, New Brunswick, and Quebec, with the exception of Montreal, all strongly opposes any tax concessions, he said. Any such proposals must go to a vote of ratepayers, generally speaking.

"New Brunswick prohibits them outright," he said.

In B.C., Manitoba and Ontario there is a 10 year limit on any fixed assessment used as tax concession.

In the proposed Alberta city act revisions, no provision is made for encouraging industry except those already in force, he said.

"Benefits must be extraordinarily great to justify going against the weight of recognized authority, and any such action must be carefully scrutinized."

When Sem W. Field, K.C., associate counsel for Edmonton, objected that Dr. Clark's testimony was not the kind of evidence the board should hear, since it was the opinion of experts only and therefore not relevant since it wasn't fact.

NOT A COURT

Chairman Blackstock ruled that if the board were a court, he would be entitled to hear Mr. Field's argument, but since it is an administrative board, therefore it is entitled to hear everyone.

He pointed out that Alberta already has tighter restrictions on tax concession deals than the provinces Dr. Clark cited, because here the minister of municipal affairs must give final approval

Twenty-nine miles southwest of Taegu, the main U.S. base on the central front, a battalion of Reds held off U.S. troops on the banks of the Naktong river.

American planes, including 70 B-29s from Japan and Okinawa, plastered the North Koreans. The air force said the B-29s badly crippled northern rail lines with the biggest raid of the war on Wonsan, east coast rail centre north of the 38th parallel.

Eighth army headquarters said United Nations troops battled aggressively on all fronts to expand gains in the south.

The allied gains on the south coast were the greatest of the United Nations offensive which jumped off Monday westward from near Masan, south coast port.

Hundereds of North Koreans were forced to retreat toward Chinju base so fast they left quantities of arms and equipment behind.

United States patrols were reported within two miles of Chinju itself.

Associated Press correspondent Tom Lambert reported advanced American units spurted 12 miles to join forces with other U.S. troops

Dr. Clark strongly criticized city commissioners' estimates of possible revenue and expense from the Detwiler project operation.

"I find it more than difficult to see how it is possible for any human being to establish possible revenue from a business over a 60 year period," he said.

12 miles east of battered Chinju. That closed the steel trap.

The link-up cut off an estimated 100 square miles of rugged land and pocketed remnants of two Red battalions.

In the fighting for Chinju, the trapped battalions are estimated to have been halved down to 1,000 from their original strength of about 2,000.

American marines, virtually unopposed, plunged southwestward 13 miles to enter Koong and secure the shores of Chinhae Bay.

An American general staff officer said the retreat of North Koreans toward Chinju was something "in the nature of a rout." The main body of U.S. troops was five miles short of Chinju Thursday, just behind the forward patrols.

FIGHTING HARD

But on the central and northeastern fronts the Communists were fighting hard to hold their river-crossing gains outside of Taegu. Yongdok, east coast port to the north, was recaptured by the Reds.

Before Chinju, two U.S. combat teams were tearing into remnants of the crack North Korean 6th Division. An estimated 1,200 were killed. Few prisoners were taken.

The North Korean high command seemed determined to make the 6th Division stand to the death. The 1st Division, which had been supporting it, was reported being diverted to bolster Red forces at the Communist bridgeheads on the banks of the Naktong six miles from Changnyong.

Protection Asked By East Germany

Red East Germany Alleges U.S. Planes Dropping Bombs

BERLIN, Aug. 10—(AP)—The Communist East German government asked Russia today to protect the Soviet zone from alleged dropping of incendiary bombs by U.S. planes.

This raised the possibility of a Soviet attempt to blockade American planes from Berlin—a step which might touch off the East-West powder keg here.

The Communist government forwarded to Moscow a report by Interior Minister Kari Steinhoff that incendiaries were loosed on East-German farm centres by American aircraft on two occasions last month. (The U.S. Air Force headquarters in Wiesbaden has denied American planes were involved).

The East government's appeal to Moscow for "protection" came on the heels of a hint yesterday by the Soviet control commission's official newspaper that a Soviet air blockade of Berlin may be in the offing.

PUBLISHED INTERVIEW

Taegliche Rundschau published an interview with a Communist worker who demanded that the Soviet Union bar American planes from flying over East Germany to prevent "our entire crop from going up in flames."

The latest accusation followed a charge three months ago by Communist officials that American fliers had dropped Colorado beetles on East-German potato fields.

The beetle charge were ridiculed by American authorities. But allied officials view seriously the obvious implications if Moscow undertakes to make today's East German complaint for anything more than propaganda.

New Site Unsettled

City council's finance committee last night referred the matter back to commissioners for further negotiation.

W. H. Sterne, presenting the case of the British and Foreign Bible Society said that in 1948 the city had promised the society a 25-foot lot on the south side of 101A avenue, just across from the market square. In January of 1950 it had agreed to erect a building on the site without cost to the society.

The society expressed a preference for the easterly half of the city-owned lot rather than the westerly half suggested by the city, he said. The building might otherwise have been well on the way to completion by now.

NEEDED FOR ARCADE

But on May 11 he was told the Detwiler scheme might materialize and the lot would then be needed for an arcade to Jasper avenue.

Other sites most suitable to the society was the present Northern Clothing Store at 9068 Jasper. Estimated cost of a suitable building on it would be from $70,000 to $75,000, based on four-month-old figures, he said, and the owners are asking up to $100,000 for the land.

Commissioner John Hodgson said the present Bible Society building and site are assessed at a total of $19,000. Two independent real estate valuators have estimated worth of the building at $40,000.

Comissioners have offered to acquire the Archibald building on the north side of Jasper between 96 and 99 streets, and lease the Bible Society there, said Mr. Hodgson. But the society has refused that offer.

Junior Chamber Plans Carnival

Preparation for a carnival to be held from Aug. 21 to 26 at 97 street and Jasper avenue was discussed by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

Stall captains appointed were A. Hamilton, D. Grieve, R. Soper, E. Pacquin, A. Mearns and B. Moffat.

Motorboat Driver Jailed

KENORA, Ont., Aug. 10—(CP)—Magistrate T. H. Wolfe Tuesday ruled that a motorboat is a vehicle within the meaning of the Criminal Code's section 285 (4).

He sentenced James Nelson of Winnipeg to seven days in jail for driving a motorboat while intoxicated.

Denmark Boosts Defence Outlay

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Aug. 10—(AP)—Denmark's Parliament voted last night to boost the country's defence outlay by 350,000,000 kroner (about $50,000,000).

The new parliament, which will be elected Sept. 5, will decide where it will get the money.

Single West Europe War Chief Urged

By ROSS HAZELTINE
Exclusive to The Bulletin

STRASBOURG, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Former French Premier Paul Reynaud urged last night that a super war minister be named immediately to weld a unified West European army against Communist aggression. He indicated that Winston Churchill should have the job.

At the same time it was learned on highest authority that the British Conservative leader himself will propose the creation of such an international army. He plans to submit a formal resolution to the assembly of the Council of Europe meeting here.

There was every indication his idea would be strongly supported.

Warning that a third world war could explode tomorrow, Reynaud told the assembly that a single defence minister is needed now.

INDICATES CHURCHILL

"We need a war minister for Europe with the powers of a war minister," he said. "And it is not necessary to go outside this chamber to find a man with the necessary prestige and experience."

As Reynaud spoke he turned toward Churchill, and the wartime British prime minister smiled and acknowledged Reynaud with a nod.

Support for such an international army immediately resounded in the hall. French delegate Henri Teitgen immediately backed the idea.

Italy's Paolo Treves urged that the 15 nations meeting here forestall a potential "Korea" in Europe, and warned that Communist fifth columns had already infiltrated throughout Western Europe.

SHARING CO-STARRING honors in Eagle Lion Films latest western release "The Sundowners," with Robert Preston, Robert Sterling, Chill Wills and Cathy Downs is John Barrymore Jr., 17-year-old son of the late "Great Profile." Filmed in technicolor "The Sundowners," begins at Rialto Theatre Thursday.

Rialto Feature Relates Story of Ranchers' Fued

In the lastest series of rustling on the Cloud's, a foreman is killed. Tom goes to the sheriff, gets no results, but is later informed that a neighboring geologist, Boyce, knows something of the killing and decides to visit.

On his way to Boyce's, Tom meets Kid Wichita, a notorious gunman, played by Robert Preston, who is forced to visit the Boyce ranch by Tom.

LOVE ENTERS

Without disclosing it, Wichita has also seen the murderer, a Job Kelsey, and in a midnight raid on the Cloud ranch Wichita disposes of Kelsey.

Resentful of the illegal tactics resorted to by the Clouds, John Gaul, played by John Litel, orders his sheriff son to drive Wichita from the territory.

Wichita agrees to leave providing Tom agrees to one more raid. While this is in progress Wichita goes to the Boyce ranch and provol's the geologist into a fight. Here he shoots him dead.

Tom is troubled by his conscience when Wichita returns a few weeks later and it then becomes obvious that Wichita is really Jim Cloud, brother of Jeff and Tom.

Beans Sorted By TV 'Eye'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—(AP)—A bean-sorting machine in which a television-tube "eye" picks the bad from the good is described in the reclamation bureau's magazine, Reclamation Era.

The machine can scan 3,780 beans a minute, and eject any that does not conform to a normal color pattern, the magazine reported. But the so-called black-eyed pea (experts call it a bean, too) has the TV eye stumped.

It can't tell the difference between a bad pea's discoloration and the distinctive black eye on a good one, the magazine said.

Police Conspiracy Trial Ended

MONTREAL, Aug. 10 — (CP) — The four-week conspiracy trial of three Quebec provincial policemen came to an end late yesterday and Chief Judge Edouard Archambault said he hopes to render judgment by Sept. 5.

The policemen are charged with conspiring to commit bank holdups. On trial were Lieut. Marcel Patenaude, former head of the RCAF's hold-up squad; his assistant, Sgt. Gaston Archambault, and former detective Paul Hervieux.

Commonwealth Plans For Asia

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Seven Commonwealth countries meet here next month to map out a six-year economic development to stave off Communism.

A-Bomb Shelters Wanted In East

HAMILTON, Aug. 10 — (CP) — Alderman Russell Reinke said yesterday that he will ask city engineer W. L. McFaul to study the possibility of building atom-bomb shelters in Hamilton mountain. There is nothing fantastic about thinking now of the possibility of attack on Hamilton's industrial potential, he said.

'Hot' Insects To Aid Study

TURLOCK, Calif., Aug. 10 — (AP) — There will be a million "hot" mosquitoes around here in the next few days. Each will be tagged with a shot of radioactive phosphorus. Then they will be trapped over a 10-mile radius. Geiger counters and other atomic-detecting gadgets will identify them. Thus, scientists hope to learn how fast and far the pests travel.

40-Hour Jaunt Pays Dividends

Lake Louise Scene Painted By Nature in Grand Mood

BANFF, Alta.—No visitor to Banff should go away without first making the short 40-mile trip to the prettiest of all lakes in the park—Lake Louise.

From Lake Louise Station an extension road runs three miles up through the forest to the lake itself from which one catches glimpses of the noble heads of Mounts Temple and Lefroy and good views of the Bow Valley and the peaks on its farther side.

Lake Louise is indeed a canvas painted by nature in one of her grandest moods. The lake is intense in color but that color is never the same for 10 minutes in succession.

The majesty of the picture is gained from the great sweep of the curve in front—a line that has been added by man—by the sheer wall of Fairview, the lofty arrow-crowned head of Lefroy at the left and the darkly wooded slopes of St. Piran to the right.

MOUNT VICTORIA

Between, apparently rising from the verge of the lake, but in reality four miles away, is the great bulk of Mount Victoria with its huge banks or snow, some of them 200 feet deep. The mountain is so placed that for the greater part of the day it catches the full glory of the sun.

Many place Lake Louise among the seven most perfect landscapes in the world, but when such a height of excellence is reached comparison becomes valueless.

The true lover of beauty finds something to admire in almost every landscape but sometimes nature does the thing so perfectly and on so grand a scale that even the dullest have to pause and wonder.

Lake Louise is about a mile and a quarter long and less than a half mile wide. It was originally called the "Lake of the Little Fishes," a name given it by the Indians.

It was discovered in 1882 by Tom Wilson, who called it Emerald Lake but in 1884 it was named Lake Louise in honor of the Royal Princess.

GOATS' BEARDS

The story is that Wilson, who was in camp near Laggan, heard one day the sound of an avalanche. Some Stony Indians camped near by told him the sound was thunder from the big snow mountain above the Lake of Little Fishes.

The Indian told him there were other lakes higher up on one of the mountains, one called "The Goat's Looking Glass," because the mountain goat went there to comb their beards.

The lake lies in what is known as a "hanging valley," the bed, ages ago, of a glacier which flowed through and down into the deepened valley of the Bow.

GREAT DEPTH

The basin is of great depth, soundings which have been taken reaching nearly 250 feet.

A thick layer of ancient moraine obstructs the valley's outlet, through which a little creek cuts its way. The temperature of the water is extremely cold, reaching only about 20 degrees above freezing even in the height of summer. The intense color of the lake is said to be due to its depth and to the presence of minute particles of rock dust carried down from the glacier.

In early summer the water is a clear robin's egg blue, but in August and September it takes on wonderful tones of mingled green and blue suggesting the wing of a dragon fly. The character of the enclosing walls also deepens the color.

Rising to the right of the lake, is a quaintly-shaped peak called "The Beehive." Looking up one will see a little shelter nearly 1,500 feet up.

A good trail leads to the summit and an easy afternoon's walk will be well rewarded.

On the way, a small lake called Mirror lake, and another called Lake Agnes are passed and are reputed to be best examples of mountain lakes that actually lie "above the clouds."

Jasper Cadets Take Honors

JASPER, Aug. 10—Two members of Jasper Air Cadet Squadron brought honor to their town recently for exceptional work in air cadet training.

Jim McFadyen, who won a flying scholarship, has finished his course with honors and now qualifies to take further training for a private pilot's license.

Ervin Sande attended cadet camp at Gimli, Man., and was chosen as one of the drill team that will represent Canadian Air Cadets in competition with the United States.

After a few weeks of intensive training in Edmonton, the drill team will appear as a featured attraction at the Pacific Northwest Exhibition in Vancouver. From there the boys go to Des Moines, Iowa, for the big test with U.S.A.

Britain Has Paid Billions In Claims For Bombing

LONDON—(CP)—The British treasury has already paid out more than $2,800,000,000 as compensation for damages caused by enemy action in the Second World War.

And claims are still pouring in more than five years after the last German raider was driven off. This year alone, payments are expected to exceed $250,000,000.

But members on both sides of the House of Commons are far from satisfied that full justice has been done for thousands who were tardy in registering their claims.

Introducing the subject in the house, Sir Herbert Williams, Conservative member for Croydon East, said injustice was being suffered by a great many people who had lost everything they possessed. Their claims had been rejected by the war claims commission because they were not presented on time.

No one, he said, wanted to impose new burdens on the state, but justice ought to be done. Among those who stood to lose by inflexible adherence to the letter of the law were many former servicemen who had assumed their wives had made a claim.

R. Morley, Labor member for Ilchen, said that in Southampton more than 5,000 homes had been destroyed by enemy action. He had submitted 300 claims to the commission but only 10 had been accepted.

BOTH SIDES AGREE

"There is agreement on both sides of the house in this matter," he said, "the only people from whom we do not seem to get agreement are the treasury representatives on the front benches."

R. Assheton, Conservative member for Blackburn West, believed it was the duty of the House and the Chancellor to hold the scales evenly between claimants who had not been satisfied and the taxpayer.

Replying, Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, said that with 1950 settlements, total claims payments will amount to more than $2,000,000,000. That meant approximately £90 ($270) was being paid by every family in the country to people whose houses or property had been damaged.

Nisei Scarred By Atom Bomb Joins U.S. Army

HONOLULU, T.H., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Wesley T. Shirai, 19-year-old Nisei who bears scars received in the atom bombing of Hiroshima, became a volunteer in the U.S. army yesterday.

Shirai, born in Honolulu, went to Japan before Pearl Harbor. His father got him a job in the Hiroshima shipyards and he was five miles from the centre of the atom blast that spotted the right side of his body with flash burns.

The new recruit, who returned here in 1947, said it is his hope that his new job will help bring his parents back from Japan.

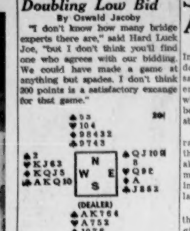
Draw Trumps When Doubling Low Bid

By Oswald Jacoby

"I don't know how many bridge experts there are," said Hard Luck Joe, "but I don't think you'll find one who agrees with our bidding. We could have made a game at anything but spades. I don't think 200 points is a satisfactory exchange for that game."



South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
Double	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
Pass

Opening lead—♣K

"I also don't know how many bridge experts there are," said Joe's partner, East. "But I'm sure of one thing. There's one less than you think."

The cause of this little exchange was the hand shown today. Joe, holding the West Cards, had made a take-out double of the opening bid of one spade. East had passed for penalties.

South ruffed the second club with the four of spades, and returned a low heart. West put up the jack of hearts, but East overtook with the queen of hearts to lead the queen of spades.

South won with the ace of spades, cashed the ace of hearts, and ruffed a heart in dummy. He returned to his hand by ruffing a club with the six of spades. By this time he had already won five tricks, and the king of trumps was a sure sixth trick. That was all he managed to make, and he was therefore set one trick, for a loss of 200 points.

Hard Luck Joe was right, of course, when he said that a penalty of 200 points was poor compensation for the game that they could have made. Somehow or other, East was not pressured into a result and seemed to blame Joe for it. Do you see why? Try to find the answer before reading on.

Joe's great mistake was his failure to lead a trump at the very first opportunity. Had he done so, the defenders would have wound up with 10 tricks—enough for a game at spades if they had been the declaring side!

Could Moa Still Exist After All?

CHRISTCHURCH, N.Z.—(CP)—Instead of saying "as dead as the dodo" in New Zealand, most people say "as dead as the Moa," a reference to the giant ostrich-like bird which is generally supposed to have become extinct in New Zealand about seven or eight centuries ago.

Now the possibility has been raised that some small species of the bird may still linger in the almost unexplored forest and mountain fastnesses of Fiordland, in the far south-west of New Zealand.

What raised the possibility was the discovery in the Fiordland region of a living colony of the Notornis, another flightless bird about the size of a turkey, half a century after it was thought to have become extinct. People began to ask whether some of the stories of Moas have survived later than generally believed might also be true.

It was recalled that footprints of a bird with feet 11 inches long were seen each year for several seasons up to 1907 in one part of the Fiordland area.

Useful Pussy

FORT FRANCES, Ont. — (CP)—Spike Davidson of Bear's Pass, Ont., is a mink farmer who has a handy pet cat. The puss has mothered 12 of his mink on his farm 25 miles east of here.

If the opening lead is a spade, South wins with the king and should lead hearts in the attempt to get a ruff in the dummy. East wins the heart trick and returns another spade, forcing out declarer's last top trump and taking out dummy's last trump.

No matter what declarer then leads, East is bound to get in with the ace of diamonds in time to draw the rest of the trumps. West's high cards would account for the rest of the tricks. South would make only his two top trumps and the ace of hearts! The penalty would be 1100 points instead of only 200.

The point that Joe overlooked is that you cannot punish a low contract if you allow declarer to make his top tricks by ruffing. You must lead trumps at every opportunity in order to draw declarer's trumps.

When East passed one spade doubled for penalties, he meant that his trumps were so long and strong that he could afford to have trumps led through him. That is the general meaning of a penalty pass.

CRU Boss Pans Players

TORONTO, Aug. 10 — (CP) — Tommy Alison, president of the Canadian Rugby Union, intends to forsake football after this season, but he wants to get one thing off his chest before he goes.

Alison, a football executive for more than 25 years, doesn't like the way players line up while the National anthem is played. And he's been doing something about it.

"I've written the various unions to have them insist on a uniform line-up of players while the National anthem is being played," he said.

"What I have in mind is for the players to line up in their customery places, take off their helmets and hold them in their left hand while they stand stiffly at attention. This would look much smarter than the straggly, haphazard effect we get now before every kickoff."

Alison also said the CRU has not made any move on the Big Four executive's suggestion that replacements be allowed teams who lose imports to the U.S. forces.

He had no doubt this will come about, however, because "it's the only logical thing to do."

Report Valiquette Decides Join Esks

HAMILTON, Aug. 10 — (CP) — The Stewart - Valiquette squabble apparently ended last night when lineman Earl Valiquette said he's heading for Edmonton to line up with the Eskimos.

The Canadian Rugby Union earlier had ruled both players are the property of the Western conference club. Hamilton had hinted it might challenge the ruling in court.

The two players had signed CRU playing certificates with Edmonton. The Big Four team claimed, however, they had previously signed Hamilton contracts, promising to sign CRU certificates for Hamilton at a later date.

Annis Stukus, Eskimo coach, came back with "no comment" when first queried last night about the Hamilton report that tackle Earl Valiquette finally was headed this way.

However, he broke down long enough to admit that "I'll be very glad to see him if he joins the club."

Beyond this he would not go.

Manager Al Anderson likewise clammed up regarding the reported about-face of Valiquette. In other words it appears Esk executives are hoping for the best, and in the meantime keeping fingers crossed.

THE ONE THEY WANT

However, if it works out that Valiquette joins the Eskimos, while Stewart continues playing hard to get, the local entry in the Western Conference will have to come up with the more desired (by them) player of the two.

Stewart is a halfback.

Following last night's drill at Clark Stadium it was disclosed that Lindy Barry, quarterback import from Texas Christian university, had been sent to the hospital, on the advice of the team physician.

Barry suffered a knee injury in a recent workout. Considerable water formed on the knee, resulting in the decision to hospitalize the Texan.

Alberta Scores 1st Cricket Win

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10—(CP)—Alberta took its first win and Ontario its first loss yesterday in the third day's play in the Dominion cricket championships.

Alberta edged Manitoba by two runs and two wickets, leaving the Manitobans with one win and two losses.

British Columbia scored its second victory by dumping the highly-regarded Ontario side by 101 runs.

ONTARIO, B.C. LEAD

At the half-way stage in the weeklong tourney, Ontario and BC are setting the pace with two wins against one loss. Alberta and Manitoba have won one match and lost two apiece.

Manitoba got off to a good start, with E. H. M. Burn and Peter Charnley accounting for 82 runs. But the balance of the team failed badly, being all out for 122. H. Snipper faced the Alberta bowling for 17.

Alberta used six bowlers, with Pete Snell taking four wickets for 24 runs and Captain Jack Edwards four for 53.

Alberta's Pete Cullimore and Ken Fraser teamed before tea to run the score from 26 up to 80; then G. Paine and A. Brown combined for 27.

With two wickets to fall they passed the Manitoba total by two runs.

WEIGHTON BOWLED WELL

W. Weighton disposed of four Alberta wickets for 21 runs.

In the other game, A. S. Hendy bowled and batted his team to an easy victory over Ontario. Hendy made 39 at bat. Ted Parkins added 35, Peter Darling 18 not out, and T. L. Brierley 16.

A. V. Pope and G. Mann led the Ontario attack with four for 44 and four for 36 respectively.

Starry Field of Nominees For Opening Day Feature

Onwitch, practically unbeatable on the prairies last season as a two-year-old, heads the list of nominees for the President's handicap, feature event on tomorrow's opening day race card at the Fair Grounds oval.

In all 13 three-year olds, including most of the Alberta derby eligibles have been nominated to contest the $1,000 event at six and one-half furlongs.

No fewer than six Edmonton-owned speedstrs were among the nominations when racing secretary George W. Schilling closed the books at 12:00 midnight last night.

Trainer Earl Robertson had named Tinda Toy, Fairfire, Fairburn and Fair Heela. Mrs. N. Sievenson had declared with Fairmond Lady. Jack Heipel thought his Haza Chance had a chance.

Onwitch started eight times on the prairies in 1949, turning in seven wins and a third. In two efforts at Vancouver this season Dr. E. T. Myers' owned colt ran third once, was out of the money in the other.

Others nominated were: Gay Thought, Meadowbrook Stable, Winnipeg; Lustin Yates, Bill Yates, Calgary; Lady Ireland, Charlie Krumpa, Winnipeg; Hestus, A. Adams, Winnipeg; Vanboro and Castaneta, Bill Stevenson, Winnipeg.

Everything is set for what racing men prophesy will be Edmonton's "greatest race meeting" to this point—More than 500 horses will be on the grounds by post-time tomorrow—4:30 p.m.

Veteran race-rider 'Scotty' Craigmyle, previously reported as planning to come here from the coast for the 14-day meeting has changed his mind and will stay at Vancouver.

'Tex' McWhorter, Emil Roy and 'Tiger' Sundquist were among the jockeys putting the thoroughbreds through their training exercises at an early hour yesterday morning.

Trainer Earl Robertson's G My Dear and Air Cadet went for an early morning 'spin' — Meadowbrook Stable's Fort Garry was galloped, while Free As Air, from the same string, settled for being ponied.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. Aug. 9—(UP)—Charles Angier, 156½, Pawtucket, R.I., outpointed Buddy Farrell, 156, Newark, N.J., (10).

DUNLAP-KARRYS FOOTBALL SWAP IS NO DICE

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—(CP) —A proposed Jake Dunlap-for-Steve Karrys trade between Toronto Argos and Ottawa Rough Riders appears to have fallen through.

The big four executive Tuesday voted down Argos bid to obtain Karrys, a former Toronto player. But the trade was apparently dead before that because Dunlap, a law student, found he couldn't leave Toronto.

At the same time, Rough Riders appeared reluctant to release Karrys now that half-back Tony Golab will probably sit this season out.

No-Hitter At Red Deer

RED DEER, Aug. 10—San Francisco Cubs, the classiest colored ball club to come this way in many years, took both ends of a double-header against Red Deer of the Central Alberta league, by scores of 3-0 and 7-2 here yesterday.

Wings Plan Exhibitions

DETROIT, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Detroit Red Wings yesterday announced an abbreviated 10-game schedule of exhibition games in Ontario as a tune-up for their National league campaign.

It will be highlighted by a game Oct. 8 at Olympia between the Wings, defending league and Stanley cup champions, and an all-star team picked from the other five teams in the league.

Red Wing officials said they would play fewer exhibition games this year because they were convinced that the number played in past years was too great.

Speedy Lusty Song Hambletonian Victor

By John Chandler

GOSHEN, NY, Aug. 10—(AP)—Lusty Song, the two-year-old United States trotting champion a year ago, won the silver anniversary Hambletonian stakes yesterday in straight heats.

The strapping brown son of Volomite-Scotch Song took on a cozen of the best three-year-old trotters in this richest of all Hambletonians, and blazed home to grab the winner's share of $40,537. The time for both heats was 2:02 flat.

GOOD CROWD

A crowd of 16,942 jammed into Bill Cane's famed Good Time Park and established Star's Pride and Florican as 7-to-5 favorites in the opening heat.

But Lusty Song and his driver, Del Miller of Meadow Lands, Pa., never worried about the mutuel board. They went out and got the business done quickly.

It was the third straight year the race had been won in two consecutive one-mile dashes.

Star's Pride, owned jointly by E. Roland Harriman, the Railroad man, and Lawrence B. Sheppard, the Hanover, Pa., shoe manufacturer, was the colt who had beaten Lusty Song earlier this year on the half-mile tracks.

SMALL PAYOFF

Lusty Song paid $4.10, $2.20 and $2.90 in the second best. Entry of Star's Pride and Florican returned $2.10 to place, and $3.00 to show.

Star's Pride picked up $14,740 for second place, with $8,844 to Lord Steward, who was third in the final standings.

Announces 4-Rounder

Professional boxing promoter Jack Berry announced last night that welterweights Johnny Angel and Ray Caswell will meet in a four-round bout on his August 16 card.

Headlining the card, to be held at the Stock Pavilion, will be George Dunn, Negro flash from Hartford, Conn., and Proctor Heinhold.

Heinhold recently lost a 10 round decision to world featherweight champion Willie Pep at Scranton, Pa. Heinhold is expected to arrive in Edmonton today or tomorrow.

Overcomes Injury To Win 2nd Time

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10—(CP)—Lyon Valley won her second race in three days at Exhibition Park Thursday.

The 4-year-old filly hurt her leg during the Lineup meeting here last month and trainer Johnny Cochland doubted if she would ever run well again.

Lyon Valley was clocked at 1:12 4/5 for the six furlongs, third best time of the Exhibition park meeting.

High Mio won the opening race and combined with Merv Flip in the second to return $56.00 in the daily double.

King and Court Head for Toronto

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 10.—(BUP)—Softball king Ed Feigner and his four courtiers headed for Toronto's Canadian National Exhibition today to prove beyond dispute they are the bluebloods of the softball world.

The four-man touring club, billed as "The King and His Court," will play the world champion Tip-Top club at the Exhibition Aug. 25.

"If we beat them, using only four men, then we'll know we are what we claim to be," Feigner said. "If we win two of our four scheduled games at Toronto, we also will have proved our point. And if we don't win, at least we'll let them know they've been in a ball game."

Baseball Vet Dies

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 10.—(AP)—John A. Quinlan, 54, a pitcher for Detroit Tigers during the second decade of the century, died Tuesday after a two-year illness.

Quinlan also pitched for Buffalo, Montreal and Jersey City in the International league and Louisville in the American Association.

In Semi-Finals ALBA Tourney

Guy Jackson and E. Munro of Calgary yesterday reached the semi-finals in the Kelly open singles of the annual Alberta Lawn Bowling Association Meet being staged here.

Also entering the same bracket were L. Steadman and John Martin of Edmonton. The four will resume play tomorrow.

Gray Reaches 'Fours' Mayfair Golf Tourney

When the last putt had been dropped long-hitting Glenn Gray, Mayfair champ in 1946, had ushered the 1948 king, Ed Thomas to the sidelines, Count was one-up.

The Gray-Thomas battle was ding-dong all the way, with the former one hole to the good going around the turn.

Although never headed, once he had won the second hole, the eventual winner at no time enjoyed more than a two-hole edge on the stylish Thomas.

Bobby Locke Remembers

If Edmonton golf followers went overboard for Bobby Locke (and they did) on those occasions when he exhibited his putting magic for their express edification, then it's true also that the South African remembers his visits this way with considerable pleasure.

We had golfdom's current No. 1 figure on the telephone last night, not long after he had outgamed slim Lloyd Mangrum to take 'All American' championship at Chicago.

* * *

"How are things in Edmonton?" he wanted to know right off. Likewise he was quick to ask "How is the Mayfair club?"

* * * *

And then and there he reiterated what he has told so many golf writers the continent over:

"I think Mayfair is the finest course I ever played," the words came back over the wires from his Windy City hotel room.

If Tommy Morrison and his Mayfair confreres haven't long since made Bobby Locke an honorary member of their club, some head reading is in order.

* * *

The way that man publicizes Mayfair is something.

* * * *

The South African holds the non-competitive course record at the south side layout—a sizzling 63. What's more Locke tied the Highlands course record, when he clubbed his way around the Ada Boulevard layout in 65 whacks, back two years ago.

One of the amazing things about the newly crowned 'All American' champ is his ability to quickly cotton to a course.

Most shotmakers require a tour or two of a new layout before they're ready to knock it off. But not the imperturbable Locke. All he seems to require is that ancient putter of his.

* * * *

"I'm leaving for England Monday," he disclosed. "I've got to play in several tournaments over there. Then I shall go to Australia after that."

* * *

It developed that the current British Open champion is writing a book on his golf experiences, for publication in the spring.

That it will be a best seller goes without saying, even if the man with the jowls and the plus fours is only quarter the author he is golfer.

* * * *

He did not suggest that a ghost-writer is being employed. Neither did we press the point.

* * *

"I expect to be back in the United States in March," he blue-printed his immediate program last night. "Then after I get my tournament committments over with, I'd very much like to play in Edmonton again, maybe in August."

There's Mayfair, remember. Certainly he wants to take another shot at the course record—his own. Besides he holds it in such high regard.

Locke had nothing but praise for Mangrum, his victim of yesterday. "Lloyd is a very fine player and a great fellow," he enthused.

* * * *

On the question of his feelings towards the United States Professional Golfers Association, the body that had barred him for close to a year, Locke refused to comment.

* * *

Where else in the world can he shoot for bundles of money comparable to those put on the line in the U.S.?

* * * *

MANCHESTER 'U' INKS PHILLY SOCCER ACE

MANCHESTER, England, Aug. 10—(Reuters)—Eddie McIlvenny, 24-year-old Philadelphia athlete who upset British soccer hopes at Rio de Janeiro, has reported for training with Manchester United, it was announced yesterday.

McIlvenny captained the United States soccer team which defeated England in the World Cup series at Rio this summer. His regular slot was as halfback with Philadelphia Nations.

Johnson Big Gun In Legion Victory

There was no score in the first half as both teams made their way to within scoring distance, but failed to make their shots count.

Legion: Galec: O'Brien, Gibson; Rose, Olander, Peacock; Wallace, Davidson, Johnson, Gillings, Skidmore; subs: Moore, Walker.

TO CONGRESS

Dodger Head 'Broadcasts'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Branch Rickey told the United States Senate yesterday that baseball "should be permitted to operate on what it believes to be the best business basis."

"This is still a free country," Brooklyn Dodgers' president said, and owners should be able to schedule games as they see fit.

Rickey made his views known in a letter to Senator Forrest C. Donnell (Rep., Mo.). The senator had it inserted in yesterday's Congressional Record.

CHARGED WAR PROFITEERING

The veteran owner's comments were prompted by Senator William Langer (Rep., N.D.) who last week charged Washington President Clark Griffith with "war profiteering" when he scheduled day and night games on the same day and announced that separate admissions would be charged.

Although Griff scheduled the day-night encounters to satisfy Detroit Tigers and New York Yankees Langer said Griffith thinks:

"If others can do it—if Branch Rickey can get away with it in Brooklyn—I can get away with it in Washington."

In his letter Rickey said:

"I am not at all sure that the Brooklyn and Washington situations are analogous. Be that as it may, I do feel very strongly that Mr. Griffith has every right to schedule the games as he has.

MUST BE FINANCED

"If baseball is to remain a wholesome, permanent sport," he said, "it must be properly financed.

"It must pay its way. Even very great sportsmen have finally become wearied with continuous losses and all of us in it try to find and keep the ways and means of breaking even or indeed making a profit."

Rickey said the practice of double admissions is nothing new. "Such a schedule is traditional in Boston, for example," he said, "and in my day as a player the custom of having morning and afternoon games on holidays was universal."

Rickey said the Brooklyn club has played 24 games on 27 holidays as morning and afternoon games in the last 47 years.

Matchmaker Alf Tansey said last night that seven bouts will make up the card. Three of the fights will be five-rounders. Balance are three rounds each.

Tansey also said hard-hitting Gord Riddle, Canadian middleweight champion, will meet Bob Rogers over the five round route. Both are local fighters.

No Hope for Hope

NEW YORK, Aug. 10—(CP)—The National Amateur Golf championship at Minneapolis Aug. 21-26 will go on without Bob Hope, the slide-nosed comedian who found the 36-hole qualifying tests Tuesday a bit too rough.

He took 80 swings on the first tour of the par-70 course and picked up his ball, conceding.

Raschi Shines As Yanks Win

NEW YORK, Aug. 10—(CP)—Vic Raschi, veteran right-hander of the New Yorn Yankees, came close last night to matching a feat performed only four times since the turn of the century—a perfect game.

Raschi held Boston Red Sox off the base paths for 6 2/3 innings, and then the bubble burst as Billy Goodman barely beat out a hit to short. Raschi finally settled for 2-1 three-hit victory.

Al Zarilla got the second hit, a homer in the eighth and Don DiMaggio the third, a single in the ninth. Raschi fanned ten in posting his 14th victory.

WERTZ AIDS TIGERS

Detroit maintained its three-game lead in the American league race by scoring a 5-3 victory over Chicago White Sox. Vic Wertz sewed up the game by belting his 24th homer with George Kell on base in the eighth inning.

Philadelphia Whiz Kids edged Brooklyn Dodgers 5-4 to protect their five-game National league edge over the runner-up Boston Braves. Braves nipped New York Giants 3-2 to end the Polo Grounders' eight-game winning streak.

CHIPMAN CHOPS GIANTS

Veteran Bob Chipman turned the Giants back on a four-hitter to end his five-game losing streak and make his record 6-9. Chipman held Giants hitless until the sixth, when they scored both of their runs on a walk and singles by Jim Hearn, Ed Stanky and Whitey Lockman and a fly ball.

Catcher Joe Tipton's only hit of the game, a single with two out, scored Sam Chapman with the winning run as Philadelphia Athletics defeated Washington 7-6 in 11 innings before a sparse turnout of 1,085.

Ken Wood slammed a two-run homer in the eighth to break an 8-8 tie and give Browns a 10-9 decision over Cleveland in the final of a two-night twin bill at St. Louis.

Larry Doby led Indians to a 4-3 triumph in the opener with a pair of two-run circuit blows.

Locke Smothers Mangrum In Tam O'Shanter Playoff

By Charles Chamberlain

CHICAGO, Aug. 10—(AP)—South Africa's Bobby Locke yesterday defeated Lloyd Mangrum by four strokes—69-73—in a playoff to win $2,500 and the Tam O'Shanter All-American golf title. The triumph marked his first return to United States fairways in more than a year.

Mangrum, who won $20,000 and everything but the door knobs at Tam in 1948 when Locke was runner-up, accepted second money of $1,750.

After the first four holes, Locke had scooted ahead by two strokes. Mangrum never came close to closing the gap as they toiled over the par 36-36—72 layout under a broiling sun.

TOOK EARLY LEAD

Locke went ahead on the second hole with a 12-foot birdie putt. He was over par for five on the fourth but Mangrum failed to capitalize and took six, after shanking an iron shot.

Mangrum dropped a six-foot birdie putt on the sixth and it appeared that he had finally shifted gears. But Locke then rattled in a tricky five-footer to match the 3.

On the seventh, Locke curled in a 20-footer for a birdie three while Mangrum parred. They both took 4 on the next, failing to drive the 250-yard green.

Locke bagged a 10-foot birdie four putt on No. 9 for a neat 34 Lloyd exploded two feet from the pin from the sand, also for a four and a 37 tally.

PUTTING POORLY

Mangrum's approach shots were inside Bobby's on the 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th greens, but he failed to rap any of his putts in and he tied each time.

Locke sewed up victory on the 14th when Mangrum took a two-over six.

This put Bobby five strokes ahead.

Lloyd got one back on the long 15th with a birdie four by reaching the green in two. They parred the last three holes in regulation fashion, Locke posting 35 and Lloyd a standard 36.

It was Locke's second Tam playoff victory in the 'All-American' tournament. In 1948 he defeated 'Porky' Oliver 140 to 146 in a 36-hole showdown.

Tom's grand finale, the "world" championship for men pros, men amateurs, women pros and women amateurs, will open 72 holes of medal play today.

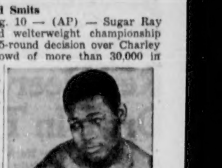
Fusari No Match For Welter King

By Ted Smits

JERSEY CITY, NJ, Aug. 10 — (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson retained his world welterweight championship last night with a clean-cut 15-round decision over Charley Fusari before a capacity crowd of more than 30,000 in Roosevelt Stadium.



RAY ROBINSON
... The Winnah!

Fusari, the 6-to-1 underdog, escaped the knockout that was predicted. But that's about all he did.

Sugar Ray nullified Fusari's only weapon by feinting him out of position time after time before he could throw his vaunted right hand punch. When he did get a chance to let it go, he usually ran into a half-dozen in return.

FUSARI WAS WOBBLY

Long-range head punches wobbled the Jersey milkman in the sixth, ninth and 14th. He slipped down, scurrying away from a right in the sixth, but bounced right back.

Sharp-shooting Robinson, always chasing a retreating foe, sliced open a cut over Fusari's left eye in the second. But excellent corner work by trainer Ray Arcel closed it between rounds. Later in the eighth he brought blood from Charlie's nose with 2 stinging straight right.

Fusari wobbled like a puppet-man in the sixth. That was the round when Sugar Ray walked from his corner and threw a numbing right hand lead high to Fusari's head.

Robinson appeared to tire in the 12th and 13th but cut loose again in the 14th.

Robinson weighed 147 pounds, the exact limit for his class, and Fusari came in at 145½. The champion gave all of his purse except one dollar to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund.

Associated Press score - card showed 14 rounds for Robinson, with the 12th round even.

Red Deer May Get Drive-In Theatre

By Hugh Dempsey
Provincial News Editor

Red Deer doesn't plan to play second fiddle to either of its sister cities, Edmonton or Calgary.

A drive-in theatre, still a novelty in Alberta, may find its place on the outskirts of the thriving metropolis.

Red Deer Regional Planning Board yesterday endorsed plans for a drive-in to be constructed immediately south of the intersection of No. 2 and No. 11 highways, known as the Sylvan Lake turnoff.

C. H. Snell, a Red Deer surveyor presented the plans to the board and it is understood that A. E. Staniland of Edmonton and Roy Chabillon of Wetaskiwin are promoting the project.

A note from Mrs. Charles Mainhood at Alberta Beach says that Lac Ste. Anne is at its lowest point in history.

With so many holidayers finding the beautiful spot a perfect haven during the hot summer months, it would be a shame to lose this lake.

POLICE FINE FOUR MEN

ATHABASCA, Aug. 10.—In police court at Athabasca, with Police Magistrate Baynes presiding, four farmers from the greater Athabasca district were each levied with fines of $50 and costs for infractions of provisions of the provincial Forestry Act.

There were three charges of permitting fires to pass to other property and one of having a fire on his own property during a closed season.

Nominations Asked by Mail

ATHABASCA, Aug. 10.—Department of Education recently revamped the constitution of Athabasca School Division by adding a sixth sub-division, whereby the Town of Athabasca is to be directly represented on the Divisional Board.

Under ordinary procedure, nominations for trustees are held at the annual meetings of the various sub-divisions, but in the emergency which has arisen, nominations have been called, to be made by mail, with the divisional secretary, at Colinton, with August 21 as the deadline.

Taree officials of the Athabasca school board have forwarded the nomination of J. P. Evans, of Athabasca, who some months ago retired as secretary-treasurer of the town. For a considerable time, prior to the absorption of Athabasca into the school division, Mr. Evans was secretary of the local school board.

Chiefs Discuss Drunk Driving

Some 275 police chiefs attending the meeting will see a "drunkometer" demonstrated. This device establishes, by breath blown into a balloon, or by chemical analysis of blood and other body liquids, the precentage of alcohol in the blood.

The police officials may discuss whether these tests, now voluntary, should be made compulsory.

Compulsory tests would put drivers in the position of knowing that after absorbing a certain amount of liquor they would be liable to a law-violation charge.

Clinic Planned For Sedgewick

SEDGEWICK, Aug. 10—To accommodate donors from Sedgewick, Killam, Lougheed, and surrounding districts, the mobile blood donor clinic of the Red Cross will visit this village August 15.

The clinic will be held in the Killam divisional school dormitory, where cots, wash rooms and other facilities are provided. In charge of canvassing are: J. Gosnell, S. Jewick; Mrs. Jack Edwards, Killam; and Mrs. Frank Pedlar, Lougheed.

HOPPERS IN NORTH AREA

ATHABASCA, Aug. 10.—The long drought period and trend in some portions of the district towards destruction of tree life is claimed to be responsible for the advent of grasshoppers south of Athabasca.

Many of the insects rank among the worst of three species—dull greenish yellow, the front wings are about the same color as the body with the exception of two straw yellow stripes forming a V along the top of the body.

Minor infestations are also reported of the lygus box, which is destructive to alfalfa, the sweet clover weevil and the turnip weevil, with cut worms and wire worms having wrought some degree of damage.

Son Slain Then Father Suicides

CALGARY, Aug. 10—(CP) — A despondent father took his three children—two daughters aged 10 and 12, and a son, aged seven—on a "picnic" to a grassy slope northwest of Calgary yesterday, where he killed the boy and put a bullet into his own brain. His two daughters escaped before he could kill them.

Dead is Charles Warren, about 30, and his son, Charles, Jr. On the pretext they were going for an afternoon's outing, Warren hired a taxi early in the day and drove his children around Calgary to show them homes he had built and later sold.

When the bill came to $4.40 he told cabbie Lyle McKinnon to drive to the city's outskirts. Wrapped in a blanket was a .22 calibre rifle which he told the cab driver was a fishing rod.

The girls had their dolls and the lad his toy gun. They were in holiday mood when they reached the grassy slope where tragedy struck.

Police said the murder and suicide had been planned days in advance. Warren took a Bible with him. They said that he had given the children liquor during the afternoon.

WIFE KILLED

Warren was despondent over the loss of his wife in a traffic accident last year in which he had his leg broken in four places and was destined to be crippled permanently.

His right foot and leg was in a cast and he was forced to use crutches to get around.

Once at the picnic site, the girls, Inez, 11, and Bonnie, 10, became alarmed at their father's action. It was said the older girl grappled with her father while the younger attempted to hide the gun and cartridges. However, they were unsuccessful in their attempt.

They fled to the home of nearby residents. Meanwhile, police reports said, the father told his son, "Now you can join your mother." With that he shot the boy.

SHOT HIMSELF

He carried the lad to the blankets which had been spread out on the ground, laid him upon it, and placed the Bible in the crook of the boy's arm. After this he laid down beside his son and joined him in death.

Automatic Steno In Quebec Court

MONTREAL — (CP) — Philip Bourgeois of Montreal is the first stenotypist ever to break into the ancient and venerable order of official court reporters in Quebec.

The expoliceman taught himself to use an automatic shorthand writer and now can take 200 words a minute.

Aquacade Slated For Innisfail

INNISFAIL, Aug. 10 — Arrangements have been completed for the annual Aquacade to be held at Innisfail August 16.

The afternoon program will consist of swiming and diving events, exhibition diving and swimming, and the judging of the contestants for the title of "Miss Central Alberta." Feature event of the day will be the half mile open, 35 lengths of the pool.

A cup will be awarded to the contestant registering the most points in each division, and local Lions club, who are sponsoring the Aquacade, have donated a grand aggregate trophy for the highest total points.

In the evening there will be a display by "The Dolphins" and crowning of "Miss Central Alberta" who will receive a diamond wrist watch.

SALISBURY, N.B.—(CP) — John Eagles, a retired fox rancher, traps black bears as a hobby. He gets $10 a bear head and his largest trophy is the head of a 400-pound brute which dragged a 50-pound trap up a tree before Eagles shot him.

After the American Revolution, Great Britain repaid many of her Indian allies in Alabama by giving them Negroes to be worked as slaves. The Negroes were known as the "King's Girls."

'BOURGEOIS SPORT'

Lady Wrestlers, Football Decried by Radio Moscow

By JAMES E. ROPER
Special to the Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Radio Moscow came out today against American football, lady wrestlers and macaroni-eating contests.

The lady wrestlers, said Moscow, are barbaric. A broadcast said football players kill each other so often in Ann Arbor, Mich., that gridders are carried "straight to the cemetery."

All of this said Moscow, is intended to arouse the fighting instincts among the American people as they will obey their warmonger masters.

On the other hand, Soviet sports are clean and pure, Moscow said. But it conceded Russian athletes might be lazy.

Enough of this, Moscow cried. From here on, Soviet athletes must work to break all major world records "to multiply the sports glory of our country."

"What is the worth of sport like women's wrestling?" asked one broadcast.

"Two women enter the ring and start pummeling each other. This lasts until one faints. The spectators of this barbaric affair are few, but they pay well, and this is just what the profiteers want.

"Such savage competition as 'eating marathons' are also being held. Recently a rich fool announced that he would pay a large sum to the man or woman who would eat the largest quantity of macaroni without using his or her hands.

"Such are the morals of bourgeois sport."

Old Bank Passes

It won't be long now for the stately old Imperial Bank Building at the corner of Jasper and 100 street. Workmen were burning the oil last night putting up scaffolding screening off the sidewalk.

Sure seems a shame to tear down that handsome old stone structure. But I can hardly wait to see how the demolition squad handles those big Roman columns.

Able Seaman Ernest Holman of the Royal Canadian Navy is having one heck of a time proving he is an adult person.

The 19-year-old Edmonton sailor, home on leave from the west coast, was questioned about his late hours by two prowler car constables the other night. They thought he was a sea cadet.

Next day he went down town in civvies with his kid brother. The bus driver tendered him 10 green car tickets for his quarter.

Naturally 19-year-old sailor Ernest was piqued. But kid brother was practical about it. He bawled out sailor Ernest for giving back the green tickets.

Seriously, I feel sorry for Ernest. There's a kid with everything a man's got but getting no credit for doing a real man's job.

PRE-FLIGHT INSTRUCTION is given pupil Stan Burke by Edmonton Flying Club instructor Wally Beaumont. Reporter found flying little training plane easy, soloed after three-and-a-half hours dual instruction. As he progressed he wrote series of stories about his instruction.

Getting Wings Then Flying Bolsters Students' Morale

(This is first of a series of stories on learning to fly by a Bulletin writer who took a course with the Edmonton Flying Club.)

By STANLEY BURKE

Ever since the day I fell out of a tree at the age of five, I have wished I could fly.

The other day I was lying on my back on the lawn watching a small aircraft high above in the blue, picking its way through the clouds.

It didn't look very hard and, as I watched, that old "Gee-I-wish-I-could-fly feeling" got very strong. It looked free and fresh and cool up there.

So next day I dropped around the Edmonton Flying Club to find out what you have to do to change yourself from a mere earthling to a fearless aeronaut.

ANYONE?

Secretary-manager Maury Fallow assured me literally anyone can fly.

"Flying is easier than driving a car," he told me. "The only thing that's difficult is landing and taking off, and even that's easier than driving at 60 miles an hour."

Cost of learning to fly is fairly reasonable, I learned, thanks to the generosity of the Federal government which pays $100, leaving you with a balance of $197. If you are over 18 and under 23, and are willing to join a reserve RCAF unit, the government will help you aloft with a $200 tip.

So, after hearing a few more words on the pleasures and thrills of flying, I signed up and walked out with a handful of manuals and booklets on how to fly without becoming a statistic.

Next evening I got my introduction to airmanship in a 40-minute flight with MacFallow, as he is known to members. He pointed out that an aircraft will pretty well fly itself and brought the point home with a "Look, Ma—no hands" demonstration.

OLD HANDS

It seems these aircraft are old hands at this flying business and know far more about it than any mere student. The big thing is to more or less leave the plane alone and let it do its own work.

After this the skipper turned over the controls.

It was a pretty rough ride until I finally got the hang of it. You fly a plane the way you dunk a doughnut—holding the stick gentle-like between the thumb and two fingers. Holding the little finger akimbo is considered affected, however.

After a while, I was flying along as easy as falling off a funslager, even made a couple of nice gentle turns. They weren't so hard, either. Just ease the rudder pedal—left pedal for a left turn—and nudge the stick to the left, and around she comes.

Matter of fact, I have already won my wings in the form of a snappy winged flying club pin. They have a great system there—give you your wings first and teach you to fly afterward. It's a big improvement on the old-fashioned way.

EDMONTON TO SEEK AVIATION MEETING

Efforts will be made to bring 1951 annual meeting of International Aviation Council to Edmonton.

Delegates to the meeting this year at Sun Valley, Idaho on Sept. 29 and 30 will be instructed to issue the invitation.

Decision to seek the convention for Edmonton followed the acceptance of a recommendation of the aviation committee of the Chamber of Commerce at their noon meeting Wednesday.

Action By Cities Seen To Share Health Grant

Alberta's four major cities must plan concerted action to collect their due share of federal grants for public health work.

City council's finance committee agreed unanimously last night to Mayor Sid Parson's motion that the four cities, Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, get together at the earliest possible date to study the problem.

The October meeting of Alberta municipalities' convention would be the first opportunity, the mayor said.

Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health, said the city had last year asked for $18,800 of the federal health grants distributed by the provincial government, and received only $3,000.

"On a per-capita basis we should have received $40,000."

The money is made available by the federal government to strengthen public health work, and there is no place in Alberta where the money is more urgently needed than Edmonton.

"Some rural areas with no public health facilities have no public health hazards—but our growth has saddled us with more than our normal share," he said.

City officials have been rebuffed by provincial authorities in their request for a fair share of the grants, on the basis that "the cities are able to take care of themselves and will be left to do so."

Red Deer, which is included in a provincial health unit, now receives 60 per cent of its public health costs, said Dr. Little. But other cities get no comparable consideration from provincial authorities.

Conservation Major Item

Soil conservation is one major item Canadian farmers can learn from the agriculturists of northern European countries.

J. J. MacLennan, Canadian delegate to the International Federation of Agriculture in Sweden, and O. S. Longman, deputy minister of agriculture for Alberta, who attended as an official adviser, both stressed that point in dinner addresses to the Alberta Federation of Agriculture Tuesday night in the Corona hotel.

Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Norway, four of the countries visited by the delegates, want all the Canadian wheat that can be raised and exported, but unless they can secure the dollars their buying power is curtailed.

Cars Kept From Project

The Battle of the Roadblock is due to start Monday between the Martin Estate veterans and the mechanized forces of the Edmonton motorists.

Commissioner D. B. Menzies announced today a permanent roadblock will be raised Monday on 109 street at the south city limits.

DISTRICT BYPASSED

The city's action will bypass traffic around the district.

Temporarily, traffic will be routed east from 109 street on 63 avenue to 106 street and thence south to the theatre, located in the municipality of Strathcona, immediately south of city limits.

The detour is being gravelled and will be ready for weekend traffic, the commissioner stated.

Small clay tiles for bathroom floors are shaped at a pressure of about 2,000 pounds per square inch, and a single press can shape as many as 64 in one operation.

Chamber Study Of Prices Plan

Practice of resale price maintenance, whereby manufacturers suggest to the vendor a price to be charged for goods will be studied by the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber of Commerce council Wednesday decided on the action following the report of a parliamentary committee appointed to study and report on the practice and its effect on combines.

Opinion among retailers is reported to be divided with some in favor of the manufacturer setting a price at which his product can be sold, thus preventing price cutting. Others are of the opinion the practice if carried out and enforced will eliminate the sale free-dom they have now.

Near Average Crop Seen for Alberta

Prairie Picture Generally Reported Good To Excellent

Most optimistic prospect held out for Alberta grain this year is "a near-average crop", according to Dominion bureau of statistics round-up report.

The report indicated crops in the province are about one to three weeks late, especially in the central regions.

Alberta crop conditions vary from "good" in the south and excellent in east central districts to "patchy" in northern regions and fair in the Peace River.

HAIL DAMAGE

In Edmonton district light to good scattered rains have improved crops in the northern sector and have resulted in a considerable improvement in coarse grains in the southeast.

In the partially hail-damaged Peace River crop area harvesting of wheat is expected to start about Aug. 25.

Average precipitation for the province since April 1 was 18 per cent below normal—not a par with the same period last year. Two weeks ago it was 21 per cent below normal. Mean temperature for the week ending Aug. 7 was 1.0 degrees above normal.

In the southeastern district crop prospects are favorable with grain mostly filled and in the dough stage. In the southwest, winter wheat and rye are now being swathed while spring crops are filling well and an excellent hay crop has been harvested.

Calgary crops are also reported to be making rapid progress but warm weather is needed to mature them. Moisture conditions are good.

PRAIRIES GENERALLY

The report termed general prairie conditions "good to excellent." Manitoba crop prospects were favorable in spite of a late season.

Saskatchewan crop was described as variable with good yields expected in eastern and northern regions, average in central and west central areas. Insect damage was reported light, but there was still a threat of grasshopper devastation in central and western areas, the report said.

Pioneer Woman Doctor Dies, 80

TORONTO, Aug. 10 — (CP) — Dr. Laura S. M. Hamilton, 80, one of Canada's first women physicians, died in hospital Tuesday after a long illness.

Dr. Hamilton was a general practitioner in Toronto and Richmond Hill, Ont., until illness forced her to retire about five years ago.

LEGION EXPANDS

City council's finance committee last night agreed that Kinsmoor Canadian Legion branch should have its present lease on city-owned property extended 10 years.

Monday's council meeting will be asked to approve.

Legion representatives told the committee a $5,000 expansion program will be undertaken in the next two months if the 10-year lease is granted.

Special Train For Delegates

The train will arrive at 10 a.m. leaving at 8:30 p.m. During the stopover a general meeting of the Edmonton Chamber has been arranged for noon.

One party of members from the east will fly into the Peace River district returning here on the night of Sept. 19 in time to join the special train.

It is expected approximately 50 members and wives will attend the convention from here, according to Don McKay, secretary of the association.

No Noise To This Applause

CLEVELAND, O. (UP)—Cheering and clapping to show approval and hissing and booing to show disapproval at public events will be out-moded if the General Electric Co. here has its way.

In several auditoriums where audience reaction is recorded, special devices are being placed at every seat. All the units are connected and the result shown on a chart.

Compensation Offered Man Left Without Lot

Interim town planning controls have exacted their first recorded victim.

But city council's finance committee decided last night he should be compensated for his loss, and referred the matter to city commissioners for action.

L. D. Hyndman, K.C., told committee how his client, J. Jerry, had negotiated for purchase of two lots on the northwest corner of 82 avenue and 91 street as site for a hardware and two other stores. The site was zoned as business area, and he contracted to pay $5,000 in excess of more than $5,000, toward a total outlay of $25,000.

But Town Planner Noel Dant, it later developed, had a "hold on" on the site, and building plans were stalled.

When the smoke cleared, Mr. Jerry found that another building had bought land on the southeast corner of the same intersection and had obtained a building permit for a hardware store there. There was no question of anyone building on the southeast corner.

Assistant Town Planner Brahm Wiseman said he supported the department's refusal to issue a permit for the hardware on the northwest corner, but said alternatives had been offered to Mr. Jerry in a neighborhood shopping centre being developed in several areas of the South Side.

Commissioner D. B. Menzies said the proposition is one of the most difficult problems in changing over to an interim control over development. People buy lots with no reference to city officials regarding zoning and then find out to their loss that they can't build certain types of buildings on them.

Friendship Promotion

Dates planned are Sept. 25, 26 and 27, with the most likely route through Camrose, Stettler, Red Deer and Rocky Mountain House.

Council of the Chamber agreed to the recommendation of the Bus-ness committee chairman, P. P. Griffith, at the noon meeting Wednesday, the project should go ahead again this year.

Success of the previous Friendship Train tours was stressed as members pointed out the tremendous value in building up goodwill.

The committee will go ahead with arrangements for city registrations, visits in towns to be passed through and application to the railway for a special train.

Soft Water Ups Cows' Output

CHICAGO (UP)—Cows increase their milk production up to 50 per cent when they are switched from hard to soft drinking water, a water softening manufacturer says.

E. J. Culligan said this was shown by tests conducted on two cows at the Summit Farms, owned by John Zanetos and Frances Webb.

He said it is "entirely logical" that minerals in hard water retard normal functions in the intestinal tract of a cow.

Impersonation Charge Is Dismissed By Court

Charges were dismissed Wednesday against an ex-mountie who allegedly posed as an RCMP constable to gain entrance to an Alberta Beach cabin.

The accused, Constant G. Ethier, said he was gathering evidence for a divorce case at the time.

He denied he had represented himself as member of the RCMP when he went to the cabin in the early morning of June 4 to search the premises.

But Magistrate S. G. Main said he accepted the evidence of the two male occupants of the cabin that Ethier had posed as a mounted policeman to gain entrance.

UNLIKELY

"In my opinion, it is extremely unlikely that the two men and their wives' friends would allow themselves to be placed in this embarrassing position if they thought he was a private detective instead of an RCMP officer," he commented.

However, the magistrate ruled there was no evidence presented that Ethier who was with the RCMP for 16 years, was not still a member of the force on June 4. He found Ethier not guilty of impersonation.

His Worship had previously denied a motion by Assistant Prosecutor Ken Crockett to reopen the case at the conclusion of argument in order to present evidence as to Ethier's professional status on June 4.

"I can not surmise or conjecture that on June 4 the accused was not a peace officer or a member of the RCMP," commented Magistrate Main.

W. J. Beaumont appeared for Ethier.

FOUR MONTH SENTENCE

Man With Truck, No Licence Jailed for Ramming Police

Sentences totalling four months were imposed Wednesday on a motorist who on July 30 drove his truck into a police car, then left the scene of the accident, all the while driving with his license suspended.

One month sentence for dangerous driving and failing to remain at the scene of an accident will run concurrently with the two month term.

According to prowler car constables George Watson and C. G. Jones, they first saw Grandbois at the wheel of a three-ton truck on 127 street waiting for a train to cross the CNR main line in Calder.

When he noticed them in their prowler car he put his hand up to his face, hiding it, then drove "a considerable distance" with one hand, they said.

At 127 avenue, when the prowler car was almost alongside the truck, Grandbois cut sharply across the path of the police car, hitting it on the right fender and forcing it into the curb.

The prowler car pursued the truck and caught up to it where 127 street came to a dead end. Constable Watson said he observed Grandbois and his passenger changing places while the truck was in motion.

Acting Prosecutor Guy Beaudry asked for a stringent sentence on the driving with a suspended licence charge "as it's very difficult to enforce this particular law."

He pointed out Grandbois had already been convicted once for driving with his licence under suspension and had also been convicted twice for being drunk while in charge of an automobile, which offence carried an automatic one-year suspension of the driver's licence.

Fashion Scene Shifts From Cotton to Wool

By Bea Thrifty

With morning mists wafting autumn's chill our way 'tis time we spurned our casual cottons for the warmth of woolens.

It's a new-fangled style this season with slit neckline and gay scarf-tie . . . to look like a casual little scarf affair. I'm afraid that doesn't really give you a picture of the bright 'n smart blouse . . . but for the $6.95 price it should be a thum-dinger.

Corduroy frocks in the toasty shades of beige-to-brown, spruce green and fire-light red sell at $15.95 and are bright songs of social success for the nine-to-five gal or the college cut-up.

One, with the perennially favorite dolman sleeve was made of a heather tweed of greens and lavender and boasted a darker green velvet collar. And, my dear fashion-minded woman, velvet touches are the "last word" in fall furbelows.

Others in a brick-red and green shadowed plaid, quieter blendings of beige 'n brown and an assortment of scarlets, greens, russets are all selling in the $12.95 to $22.95 bracket.

If you're needle-nifty and are hankering after a corduroy dress as in the likes of me . . . there's yard-goods in various widths at a matching variety of prices.

Bolts of 36-inch-wide materials in midnight blue, scarlet, forest green, turquoise, old gold 'n such sell at $1.39 to $4.95 per yard. Others in wider widths start at $2.50 mark and travel upward.

WHY GROW OLD

Today's Woman Should Use Independence She Has

By Josephine Lowman

For all thinking persons, independence, both national and personal, is more precious and more valued today than ever before!

We sometimes fail to realize that privileges carry responsibilities, that we must earn both national and individual independence. Independence does not mean that we "Don't give a darn" about the world as a whole or about that small part of the world with which we come in contact. It means that we must invest in life, that we must prepare for living.

REQUIRES INVESTMENT

The democratic nations of the world have always come forward, with blood and sacrifice, when a fellow nation was being enslaved. Democratic nations have a sense of fairness which rises to the test when a smaller nation is being abused by a bully. Democratic vibrant individuals invest in life in the same way!

Never before in the history of the world have women been given such independence as they enjoy today! They have rights as wives and individuals which they never had before. The whole world of business and art has been opened to them and home-making has become a highly specialized career. Women can stay young and pretty longer. They have information with which to protect their health and their beauty.

KNOW THE REASONS

Do not toss this independence about! Become well informed about nutrition and figuré moulding and child psychology, and also about national affairs. Your right to plan meals and to direct the young mind and to vote, carry responsibility. I think the woman who today votes a certain way simply because her father or grandfather did, or one who considers a certain party simply because her mother did, is failing in her responsibilities, AND—

I sometimes wonder if all individual homes and communities in all countries were based upon love and tolerance and information rather than upon envy and greed and ignorance, if we would have any national or domestic problems. Somehow love and tolerance and intelligent thought simplify living in a miraculous way!

Two birds with one stone is exceptional, but one bolt of lightning killed 1500 sparrows at Clarendon, Va., in 1901. The birds were perched on an electric light wire when the lightning struck it.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Children's Safety Needs Extra Watching in Summer

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

The time to teach a young child the necessity to play in his own yard, is the first day he goes out to play. His mother should explain to him exactly where he can play. "You may go as far as that tree in the front yard, and as far as the garage in the backyard. If you play just here then Mother can see you and take care of you. But, if you go beyond those limits, in you come, right away and you may not play outdoors."

The big point is to enforce your dictates and promptly. Watch the child until such time as you are certain you can trust him. When he steps outside the limits set for him, come right out and bring him in the house. You said you would and you meant it.

A child under four years of age is not to be trusted to cross the street unless accompanied by some adult or responsible child, even if he has darted across safely innumerable times. He is not aware of danger nor how to avoid it.

Our leaflet No. 10 "Care During the Summer," enumerates the way in which a child may be kept well during the hot season. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Stylish Stouts Will Soon Be Just That

LONDON—(CP)—British shops are now stocking wider ranges of smart clothes for stouter women.

Up-to-date dresses in every style and fabric now are available in 40 to 60-inch hip-sizes.

Larger quantities are made in low and middle-price ranges, although supply is still less than demand, stout women now can be sure of smarter clothes.

The days are gone when Britain's ample figures could find only styles in ark colors and subdued designs. Designers are proving, to themselves and conservative British "fatties," that dresses with a cut suit design of fabric, can flatter largest of figures.

In rayon, cotton and silk, horizontal designs are used in button-through styles with belted waist, revers neck and short sleeves. Straight skirts have just the right amount of fullness, and the uninterrupted lines of the pattern emphasize the celna-cut figure-line. Made for 42 to 46-inch hips, it costs 47 lbs. ($24.02).

Healthy Weight

Overweight men can stand more prolonged physical and mental stress and are less liable to disease than underweight men, according to an English doctor.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Self-Sacrifice More Weakness Than Virtue

DEAR MISS DIX: In a recent check-up of myself I find I am what is known as a "giver" personality.

I remember birthdays of friends and relatives, yet my own passes unheeded. I write letters of cheer and sympathy to people I love to receive, yet my sorrows and joys are borne in gruesome loneliness. I speak kindly and loyally of all I know, yet unkind and hurting criticisms are my lot. I am so disgusted with living because I seem utterly unable to cultivate selfishness as a virtue. My only consolation is the fact that I am only 22 and still can change, but how does one strike a happy medium?

M. K.

ANSWER: I suppose the only workable suggestion would be for you to reverse the Golden Rule and do unto others as they do unto you.

The only trouble in pursuing this line of conduct is that it will hurt you a hundred times more than it will those to whom you apply it. For a generous nature loves to give and finds far more happiness in giving than in receiving. A loving heart overflows with tenderness that it must expend on those about it, and an unselfish nature gets an exquisite joy in sacrificing its own pleasures to those near and dear to it and making life easier for them.

SHOWS LAZINESS

Unselfishness is exploited as a virtue, but it is, in reality, generally just a manifestation of weakness, laziness and lack of backbone. A wife thinks she is unselfish to her husband when she gives in to all of his whims and lets him inflict petty tyrannies upon her and ride roughshod over her, but it is because she lacks the nerve to stand up and fight him and force him to treat her properly. The woman who makes of herself a doormat for her children thinks she is an unselfish mother when she spoils them to death and makes them little beings, but it is because it is easier to give in to them than it is to make them behave themselves.

Because this is a selfish world we have scant respect for those lacking courage to stand up for their own rights and who let us impose upon them. It is never the enslaved wife or husband who is the adored one. It is never the mother who looks like a human ragbag while her daughters are daily hitting from Paris, whose children look up to her.

So you are a wise young woman to realize at 22 that you have the self-sacrifice complex, because you have time to modify it. And this I advise you to do both for your sake and the sakes of those about you. There is neither dignity nor virtue in being an easy mark.

A—The word bogus is said to be a corruption of Borghese, name of a notorious forger of the last century. His transactions were so extensive that his name, pronounced with American freedom first Borges and then Bogus spread over the whole union.

Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1950

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—A great deal depends today on how you conduct yourself and your affairs. Irritation and impatience are in the air, but you need not indulge them. Be agreeable, co-operative.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Your Venus is favorably aspected, but other planetary influences generally are not; it behooves you to conform to sensible rules. Work with, not against, right folks, and right projects.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Mercury's influences warn against sharp temper, carelessness in travel or regarding health. Some gentle days ensnare for personal gain, especially in private matters, artistic things.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Some troublesome inclinations perhaps, but you can overcome them and go peacefully and progressively on your way. Better day for familiar duties than for new, perhaps risky, undertakings.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Wholesome activities, your especial duties and work on matters important to government, military and international relations are highly rated and need extra care. Hold good humor.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—May feel high tensions; do try to keep serene, unhurried. Day favors most familiar matters, home interests and all sound and useful activities. Money transactions ask care.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Very friendly rays for your interests and work for which you are trained. Essential matters concerning country's needs, occupations and home duties also honored. Rest in free time.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Dealing in lumber, leather, tools, machinery and live stock highly favored, but caution is stressed about temperaments and partners. Keep nerves calm by quiet reasoning. Can be good day.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—Not all auspicious, but if you really try you can accomplish a great deal in work and other matters important to our everyday needs and helpful to government and society generally.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Neither restricting nor helpless rays, but this should help you to greater effort in whatever your day's program requires. You may have to urge self forward—do so; it will pay.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—You in trades, building, transportation—any work requiring loyalty and endurance—have encouraging influences. Be warned not to be selfish or to accept advancement regardless of means.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Similar tendencies now to Aquarius and Capricorn. It is to you how much you achieve and in what direction. No need to overstrain, but you must keep steadily busy for results.

You Born Today are the genial, interesting, usually unworried type. You have fine talent and capability, but should always use it to advantage—only as you can and should. Avoid extremes (latter: do not be egotistical. Humility and sincerity are characteristics to be cultivated. Have compassion, too, for those who fail at times (as do all). You cannot go wrong if you heed these principles and God's love for you. Have cheerful outlook; help keep it so. Practice system, steadfastness.

Gov. Says No To Army Gals

Several former members of the Canadian women's army corps showed up today among the men who crowded into army recruiting centres across Canada for the Korean brigade. Some nurses volunteered their services.

And the first woman officer in the non-defunct CWAC said in an interview that she wouldn't mind joining again if she were needed.

"For my part and I believe most former service women would feel the same—we would go back if needed or required" said Lt.-Col. Joan Kennedy of Ottawa and Victoria.

Col. Kennedy, who joined the corps in 1941 and stayed with it until it disbanded is president of the national organization of "several thousand" CWAC veterans formed here two years ago to keep the corps spirit alive.

Meanwhile, officials at defence headquarters said "no consideration is being given at the moment" to re-organization of Canada's women's services which during the war drew some 48,000 women into the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service, the RCAF (WD), and the CWAC.

in the KITCHEN...

By Jane Scott

Live-alone gals who are not too sure about liking it have many problems.

Right up near the top of the list is keeping food fresh. As a matter of fact nine homemakers out of ten think this the biggest hot-weather headache.

When there's nothing between you and the temperature . . . not even an ice box the problem grows to tremendous proportions. And even with an ice box . . . there's trouble in the warm summer's air.

About the only way to avoid heavy food wastage is to buy in as small quantities as possible.

Even this doesn't prevent butter from melting away, milk from going sour, when the ice disappears hours before the next delivery is due.

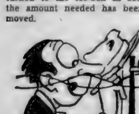
It may be possible to save enough milk for the morning coffee by putting the bottle in a sauce-pan of cold water over night.

However—to play safe—it's a good idea to keep a supply of condensed milk on hand.

In any case milk should be taken into the house as soon after delivery as possible and the bottle cap should be washed in cold running water before opening or putting away.

KEEP COVERED

The milk should be kept covered as it readily aborbs odors from other foods and it should be returned to the ice-box as soon as the amount needed has been removed.



Fruits such as berries, cherries and plums should be placed on ice without washing as soon as received from the market.

Eggs should be placed in the ice-box in a wire basket. To keep whites after eggs have been broken and separated, place them in a glass jar, cover, and keep cool.

SOUR MILK USES

Never throw out sour milk as it can be mighty useful in making tea-biscuits and even in cornmeal muffins.

Cornmeal Muffins — Ingredients:
- 1 egg (beaten)
- 1 cup sour milk
- ½ teaspoon each of soda and salt
- ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1½ cups corn meal
- ½ cup flour
- 2 teaspoons hot grease.

Golden Muffins With Blueberries For Summer Menu

TOMORROW'S MENU

LUNCHEON: Chopped raw vegetables mixed with cottage cheese and sour cream, lettuce, toasted English muffins, fresh fruit bowl, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Beef and vegetable stew, or creamed tuna fish on toast, fried potatoes, green beans, sliced tomatoes and cucumbers, crusty bread, butter or fortified margarine, blueberry pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

BLUEBERRY MUFFINS
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 3 teasps. baking powder
- 1 teasp. salt
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 cup milk
- ¼ cup melted shortening
- 1 cup blueberries

METHOD: Sift together sifted flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Beat egg, and to this add milk, shortening and blueberries. Stir into flour mixture, mixing only until flour is moistened—about 20 seconds. This brief mixing liquid ingredients with the flour mixture is the secret of tender muffins. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Sprinkle 1/4 teasp. sugar over each muffin to give it a crusty top. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 15 to 20 minutes. Recipe makes 2 dozen small muffins, 1½ inches across.

Ever try a sweet omelette for dessert? Time you did if your family relishes good things to eat.

BLUEBERRY OMELETTE

Plump, Juicy Blueberries Please in Pretty Pies

By Jane Scott

Those plump, outsized cultivated blueberries are crying out loud for pie shells. Better give them a kind answer. Then everyone will be happy.

FRESH BLUEBERRY (OR HUCKLEBERRY) PIE
- 2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
- ¾ cup granulated sugar
- ½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 quart blueberries
- Pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie
- 1 tablespoon butter.

Combine quick-cooking tapioca, sugars, salt and berries; let stand 15 minutes, or while pastry is being made. Line a 9-inch pie pan with half of the pastry rolled ⅛-inch thick.

Roll remaining pastry ⅛-inch thick. Fill pie shell with fruit mixture. Dot with butter. Moisten edge of pastry with cold water. Cut strips from rolled pastry and adjust in lattice across top of pie. Flute rim.

Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 45 minutes, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

Note: For extra juicy fruit pies, serve them a little warm. For thicker pies, let cool about four hours or longer before serving.

Jelly-Making Time Comes Now For Edmonton Homemakers

Fresh-fruit-time keeps the enterprising homemaker hopping with apricots, raspberries, peaches, pears, gooseberries, currents, plums 'n such available now.

Most preserving fruit is just sifting in although apricots and cherries are not long for this world.

Concord grapes are yet to appear . . . but while you're in the planning-for-winter frame of mind here's a recipe for grape butter that's a tasty treat:

CONCORD-GRAPE BUTTER
- 5 Cups (2½ lbs.) prepared pulp
- 7½ cups (3¼ lbs.) granulated sugar
- ½ 8-oz. bottle liquid pectin

To Prepare Pulp: Rub grapes remaining from Concord-Grape Jelly, above, through sieve.

To Make Butter: Measure sugar and prepared pulp into large kettle. If necessary, fill last cup with excess juice or water, to make 5 cups. Mix well; bring to full, rolling boil over highest heat. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 min. Remove from heat, and stir in liquid pectin. Stir and skim for 5 min. Pour quickly into scalded glasses to within ½" of top. Paraffin at once, as directed above. Makes about 12-6 oz. glasses.

QUINCE JELLY
- 4½ cups (2¼ lbs.) prepared juice
- 7½ cups (3¼ lbs.) granulated sugar
- ½ 8-oz. bottle liquid pectin

To Prepare Juice: Remove blossom and stem ends from about 3 lbs. fully ripe quinces. Do not peel. Grind; add 4½ cups water. Simmer, covered, 15 min. Place in jelly cloth; squeeze out juice. (If fruit lacks tartness, add 2 tablesp. lemon juice to quince juice before measuring.)

To Make Jelly: Measure sugar and 4½ cups prepared juice into large sauce-pan; mix. Bring to boil over highest heat, and at once add liquid pectin, stirring constantly. Bring to full, rolling boil, and boil hard ½ min. Remove from heat; skim; pour quickly into scalded glasses to within ½" of top. Paraffin at once, as directed above. Makes 11 6-oz. glasses.

WHEN YOU GIVE JELLY AS A GIFT

1. Cut out, from seed catalogues, pictures of the fruit used in making the jelly, and paste on cover.
2. Or if you're artistic, paint a picture of the fruit on top of the cover.
3. Or place small paper doilies over the cover, and tie them on with a gay ribbon.
4. And include a box of Melba toast or crackers with your glass of jelly.

Corned Beef Dish For Supper Treat With Corn On Cob

DINNER: Corned beef and cabbage, summer style, lettuce, sliced tomatoes and sweet onion rings, corn on cob, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, watermelon, coffee, milk.

Steps In Making Jelly

1. Sterilize jelly glasses or jars as for jam making.
2. Select sound fruit, using about equal parts of ripe and slightly under-ripe fruit.
3. Wash thoroughly and discard any damaged spots.
4. Prepare fruit according to directions given below.

CHOKECHERRY and APPLE: Wash and stem chokecherries, crush in bottom of kettle. Wash apples, stem, cut into eighths. Prepare equal quantities of both fruits; water to come just below top layer of prepared fruit.

PLUM, SOUR: Wash, stem, cut into halves or quarters, leave in pits; water to come just below top layer of prepared fruit.

QUINCE and APPLE: Wash quinces and apples thoroughly, remove stems and blossom ends, cut into quarters. Prepared equal quantities of both fruits; water to completely cover prepared fruit.

QUINCE and GRAPE: Wash quinces, remove stems and blossom ends, cut into quarters. Wash and stem grapes. Prepare equal quantities of both fruits; water to come just below top layer of prepared fruit.

RASPBERRY and RED CURRANT: Wash raspberries. Wash and stem currants. Prepare equal quantities of both fruits; ¼ cup water for each cup prepared fruit.

6. Simmer fruit and water in a covered kettle until fruit is soft and mushy, crushing during cooking.
7. Pour hot cooked fruit into moistened jelly bag made of flannel or several thicknesses of cheesecloth. Hang up over a bowl and allow to drip. Squeezing the bag increases the quantity of juice, but the jelly will not be so clear.

Summer Salads Favor Cool Fruit For Warm Weather

WESTERN SUNSET SALAD

Cut chilled cantaloupes into crosswise slices about 2 inches thick. Peel the rings and place on shredded, crisp Iceberg lettuce. Fill rings with a combination of melon balls and fresh summer fruits — berries, seedless grapes, apricots and peaches. Top with a "dollop" of sherbet — or a salad dressing if you prefer.

* * *

BANANA MELON BALL SALAD

For one individual serving: Peel a fully ripe banana (yellow peel flecked with brown) and cut lengthwise into halves. Place halves cut sides up, side by side, in centre of salad plate. Place melon balls (cantaloupe, honeydew or watermelon) at each end and between the banana halves. Garnish with cool, crisp salad greens. Serve with mayonnaise or cream dressing.

* * *

CALIFORNIA SAUCE
(Makes about 1¾ cups sauce)
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- ⅓ cup sugar
- Dash of salt
- 1 cup white table wine or white grape juice
- ¾ cup water
- ½ cup mint-flavored apple jelly
- 1 tablespoon butter or fortified margarine
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice, green vegetable coloring (optional).

Mix cornstarch, sugar and salt in a saucepan. Combine wine or grape juice, water and jelly, stir gradually into dry ingredients. Cook, stirring constantly, over low heat until sauce boils; continue cooking for 2 or 3 minutes, or until sauce is thickened and clear. Remove from heat; stir in butter, lemon juice, and a drop or two of green coloring, if desired. Chill. A sprig of mint makes an attractive garnish. Note. This sauce is delicious with melon balls.

Canada Will Buy Arms From U.S.

$25 Millions, U.S., Canada Arms Deal Has Two Sides

OTTAWA, Aug. 10—(CP)—The current $25,000,000 Canada-United States arms-purchasing arrangement is not all one-sided.

Canada, it is true, will get big contracts for naval guns from the United States, but the United States will get something from Canada, too.

Canada's orders to be placed in the United States, it was learned today, will be for thousands of dollars worth of classified or secret equipment for accelerated production of the F-86 Sabre, the United States single-seater jet-fighter now being constructed in Canada.

ONLY AIR FRAMES

Officials declined to disclose what equipment will be purchased, but it was indicated that for the most part only the air frames will be produced by Canada.

The myriad of instruments, as well as the six .5-calibre machine-guns that are included in the jet's armaments, appear to be among the American equipment Canada will obtain under the reciprocity arrangement.

However, that is not all. From various authoritative sources it was learned that as a general basis of policy, Canada will look to the United States for new armament trends, purchasing what she can directly from U.S. sources of supply and wherever possible requesting the United States to place orders for production of the new equipment in Canada.

FOR FUTURE WARS

Any existing pattern of equipment, such as rifles, considered adequate for future wars, will be continued. These patterns for the most part are of British design.

Thus, the new big order the United States is placing in Canada is for 3.5-inch U.S.-type naval guns, to be used on convoy vessels.

Following her policy of buying up the tail-end of American orders placed in this country, Canada will make a smaller order for the same weapon to be used on Canadian ships.

SAME PLANT

Both orders, it has been indicated, will be completed by a Sorel, Que., gun-producing plant, the same plant that produced Canadian naval guns during the Second World War.

A few machine tools will have to be brought in from the United States to get the contract started.

From time to time, sources have indicated, there will be departures from this policy.

For example, they said, there is a piece of secret armament that has been invented by the United Kingdom which the United States and Canada consider an satisfactory that both countries have undertaken direct purchase of the equipment from the U.K.

Scot Educator Hepburn Dies

GLASGOW, Aug. 10—(CP)—Death of Dr. William A. F. Hepburn, 89, distinguished Scottish educationist, was announced here yesterday.

Director of education for Lanarkshire since 1944, his early career brought him in close contact with educational organizations in Quebec. He made several lecture tours and was honored by McGill University for his work.

Two Die In Fire

GARDINER, Mont., Aug. 10—(AP)—Two persons were burned to death and three others were injured early yesterday as flames destroyed the Park Hotel at the northern gateway of Yellowstone National Park. Cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Birds Are Overlooked As Busy Bees Studied

BALTIMORE, Aug. 10—(AP)—Why do mosquitoes dive bomb you one day and snub you the next?

Why will a moth dance around a light one night and stay in the shadows the next?

A Johns Hopkins University scientist believes the answer to these and other insect-life mysteries may be found in a study of tiny time and space changes in the weather near the earth's surface.

RESEARCH STATION

The university announced today that the scientist, Dr. Vincent G. Dethier, has opened a research station at East Bluehill, Me., to try to get to the bottom of the riddle of what makes an insect act as it does.

Dr. Dethier is studying these minute weather changes, usually occurring within five feet from the ground, with the assistance of a bevy of bees, moths, mosquitoes and other insects.

The United States Army is a co-sponsor with the University in the project.

It is particularly interested in testing the value of newly-developed insect sprays and other repellents.

INTENSIVE STUDY

The university said Dr. Dethier is making the first intensive study of those tiny weather changes in relation to their effect on animal life.

The so-called microclimate has great influence over the behavior of living things at the earth's surface, Dr. Dethier explained. In fact, he said, it is those undetectable changes that have the most influence.

With special instruments supplied by the university and the army, he takes continuous readings of small weather changes, and at the same time measures corresponding insect activity.

And all the while, a sharp eye is kept on the reaction of insects to repellents as the weather changes.

Norse Freighter Pumps Manned

HALIFAX, Aug. 9—(CP)—The Norwegian freighter Belfri wallowed in heavy seas yesterday. The 20 man crew of the Belfri has manned the pumps since Monday.

Pounding seas parted the vessel's plates and tons of water crashed in on her cargo of china clay. She had been en route to Philadelphia from Fowey, Eng., and changed her course to the nearest port, St John's, some 900 miles away.

Guy Weadick Moves South

HIGH RIVER, Alta., Aug. 10—(CP)—This Southern Alberta town yesterday threw a community picnic for the originator of the world-famous Calgary Stampede—Guy Weadick—who is ending 32 years of residence in Alberta.

Weadick, who organized the Stampede in 1912, and his wife, once world's champion trick and fancy roper, are moving to the southern United States after selling their High River property.

Committee Members Tour America

OTTAWA, Aug. 10—(CP)—Two representatives of a United Kingdom government committee on radio will visit Canada and the United States this month to study radio and television operations in the two countries, it was learned.

They are Selwyn Lloyd, Conservative member of the Commons for Wirral, and Mrs. J. L. Nicolls, principal of Westfield College at University of London.

Royalist Plant Fire Accidental

GHENT, Belgium, Aug. 10—(AP)—Fire broke out today in the printing plant of the pro-Leopold newspaper Het Volk, causing damage estimated at 15,000,000 Belgian francs ($300,000) to the presses.

An official of the newspaper said he was sure the fire started accidentally.

BRITISH MINISTERS LUNCH WITH TITO

LONDON, Aug. 10 — (AP) — A Two British ministers are in Yugoslavia now. They are Philip Noel-Baker, minister of fuel and power, and A. G. Bottomley, secretary for overseas trade. Belgrade radio announced they lunched with Tito Tuesday in company with the British ambassador, Sir Charles Peake.

British move to bring Yugoslavia closer to the West is under way, in the view of qualified diplomatic informants.

They say the idea seems to be to give Premier Tito's jittery regime greater confidence in the form of more economic and political backing at a time when Communist pressure is mounting in Europe.

Yugoslavia has been in the doghouse of the Russian-led Cominform since 1947. Her nervousness at possible Cominform action against her increased after the Korean blow-up took place.

Approximately one-third of Canada's national income is derived from foreign trade, a degree of dependence on external economic conditions equalled in only two or three other countries in the world.

WATSON GOLDSTICK

By CECIL "TIGER" GOLDSTICK

A likely candidate for most unpopular citizen title is the motorist who honks his car horn as a solution to traffic problems.

There's no reckoning how many accidents this type has caused or aggravated and he can also be held responsible for the rising rate of high blood pressure among his fellow motorists.

The gazelle like leaps which a sudden horn blast can inspire in a pedestrian must certainly cut down on his life expectancy. So that's another charge against the lowly horn blower.

Perhaps the finest reaction started up by the horn blower occurs when traffic is stopped at traffic lights. The car ahead of him is first in line, ready to go ahead on the green light. Alright, the driver is tensed, geared to surge ahead the minute the light changes.

He wants to make sure the man ahead is alive to the possibilities of beating the light by a split second. So he blows his horn.

Sometimes the timid man is slow. Blows his too. What the heck—he can't see the signal anyway so why take a chance on the fellows up ahead being right up on their toes. Someone's chain reaction is going to be set up under these circumstances that will probably end in bloodied noses.

There's not much the youngsters can do about this one — except watch with scorn.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

Out in the fog on Frog Pond, Mr. Turfbog the English bulldog and Onree, the French poodle dog, had just called to Uncle Wiggily and Bosun who were on the deck of the rabbit gentleman's houseboat.

"The fog is so thick, Bosun," said Uncle Wiggily, "that I don't believe our welcome visitors can find their way to my boat. What can we do?"

"That may take a long time, Bosun. And it will not be very pleasant for Turfy and Onree to wait out in the fog in their row boat. I wonder how they happened to find us? But can you think of any way, Bosun, so they can find and come aboard our boat in the fog?"

"Yes, Cap'n Wiggily, I have just thought of a way. We have no foghorn on board. But I can play my accordian. By listening to its music, Mr. Turfbog and the French poodle can easily come toward our boat through the fog.

"Welcome to my houseboat, my dear friends!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily, shaking paws with Onree and Mr. Turfbog. "But how did you happen to come to my secret island? I discovered this island. I was the first ever to land on it. My wife calls me her Columbus Wiggy. But how did you get here, Turfy?

"Onree and I started out to pay you a visit. We knew you were up in this part of Frog Pond, but we didn't know your secret, new island. Then we met Sealer the Seal and he told us you were here. But when the fog came, we didn't know what to do.

"I'll call my wife, Nurse Jane and all my friends."

Soon there was a merry time aboard Uncle Wiggily's boat. But when Bunty told of her adventure in the castle, and how the Marquis had chased her, Mr. Turfbog looked at Onree Poodell and the French dog looked at the English dog in a very strange way.

That afternoon Buster heard Mr. Turfbog whisper to Onree:

"And Onree whispered, "Oui! Oui!" That was his way of saying "yes" in French.

And that night there was a strange meeting in the shadows of the moonlight on the deck of Uncle Wiggily's boat. Mr. Turfbog walked softly to the starboard rail where his boat was tied. Onree Poodell followed him. The French dog carried a chain and a bell.

"Now we shall go!" in the night and fix that Marquis!" said Mr. Turfbog. "You will rattle the chain and ring the bell!"

"Oui! Oui!" said Onree in his French way. "And what do you do, M'sieu Turfbog?"

Looking For Acreage?

Are you one of those seeking that certain bit of acreage that you've had your heart set on?

Perhaps, like others, you will discover that you have to compromise, at least with acreages as they appear today, but not with the future possibilities. This acreage certainly is future possibilities. Priced right for the immediate and an excellent buy based on future development.

This parcel is 8 acres, strategically located, offers a 5-room bungalow with living room, dining room, 3 bedrooms and bath. 200 amp service and all the house are fenced to make an excellent playground for your children.

This mental picture you have formed will not be complete unless you can visualize in your mind's eye the selected 8-room house, but nothing that a little ingenuity and a certain bit of forward planning would not remedy. The full price is $8,250, and with terms, too.

Lilibet Still Awaits Birth As Crowds Mill

LONDON, Aug. 10.—(Reuters)—Only three London policemen and a guardsman sentry were on duty today outside Clarence House, Princess Elizabeth's home, where extra police were posted last night to control crowds awaiting news of the expected royal birth.

There was little activity outside the house, where the princess is awaiting the birth of her second child, due some time this week.

Sir William Gilliatt, the gynaecologist, and Sir John Weir, the royal family's physician, who have been making daily calls on the princess, were remaining within easy reach.

Sir William, who has a reputation for accurate prediction, was believed to have said earlier in the week he thought the child might be born today.

U.S. Reported Ready to Train Interned Troops

HONG KONG, Aug. 10.—(BUP)—A Chinese report claimed today that the U.S. mission in French Indo-China had agreed to train and equip 35,000 Chipese Nationalist troops interned there.

The troops were driven across the Chinese border early this year by the Chinese Communist armies.

The report, which originated in Saigon, said the U.S. mission had agreed on the training plan with French and Viet Nam authorities as a means of checking an anticipated offensive by Indo-China's Communist-led Viet Minh rebels.

OIL

Gas Discoveries Awaiting Market

Two more gas discoveries are being completed and shut in pending development of a market for Alberta gas. The latest two gassers are both northeast of the gulf Stettler pool. They bring 1950 gas finds to 17.

California Standard company has abandoned efforts to make its new well twelve miles northeast of Stettler into

After swabbing for two days opposite perforated Lower Cretaceous section and getting only a few gallons of oil, Standard decided to plug off the eight foot oil zone and complete as a commercial gas well in the section above.

No potential is given but Standard officials said substantial gas showed in tests.

SECTION TOO TIGHT

At first it was though the well might develop into an oil producer but the eight-foot section was apparently too tight to give up any appreciable volume.

Fourteen miles east of the Stettler oil field and about eight miles southeast of Cal Standard Canadian, Superior Oil Company of California is completing the previously announced Rio Bravo Liebling as a gas producer also.

Both the wildcats failed to find Devonian production below the gas zones. Liebling is rated at about 3,000,000 cubic feet of gas a day. Gas producing zone is in the interval 4,122 to 4,142 feet.

DAILY TAKE

Imperial Oil announced it will continue to take 60 barrels per well per day from the Redwater field during August as in July.

At Leduc Imperial will take 90 wells per day per D-3 well instead of 100 barrels as in July.

Imperial will take 65 barrels per D-2 well per day instead of 70 as in July, and also buy 260 barrels per day from each Golden Spike well as in July.

MORE BEING TAKEN

At Exelsior Imperial will continue to take 60 barrels per day as in July. At Campbell and Joseph Lake no change has been announced from 50 barrel per well per day quota except that more is being taken from the deeper zone wells at Campbell.

B. A. has made no announcement on August market quotas.

At Excelsior Imperial has succeeded with its No. 15 which is now being placed on production. The No. 15 is the 20th oil well for the field. Pacific has also a gas well. Imperial announces the start of No. 16 in lsd 15-3-24.

California Standard Acheson Province a few miles northeast of Imperial Stony Plain is drilling below 4,500 feet and must be well into D-1 zone.

Judging from the Imperial D-2 contact of around 4,777 feet and with Acheson reportedly logging still higher it must in fact be getting very close to D-2.

JAIL MAKES 217-POUND SEX ERROR

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Aug. 10—(AP)—After two months in the women's wing of the Imperial County Jail, "Josephine" Montgomery was removed to a men's cell at San Quentin prison.

Montgomery was disguised as a woman when arrested. He was convicted of strong-arm robber—

Army's Pay Better Now

OTTAWA, Aug. 10—(CP)—Veterans serving in Canada's special army force will find their pay a bit better than it was in the Second World War.

Defence Minister Claxton said today men in that force will be paid on the same basis as men in the regular force. This indicated that there will be no special pay for service in Korea or elsewhere.

In the Second World War, a recruit got $1.30 a day and was raised to $1.50 after six months. A corporal got $1.70, a sergeant $2.20, a captain $6.50. There was a subsistence allowance of $1.25 a day for other ranks, $1.70 for officers if they weren't living in barracks and eating army food.

Now the recruit will get $68 a month—pay now is computed on a monthly basis—and $72 once he is trained. A seargeant gets $101, a captain $213. Subsistence allowances range from $54 a month for a new private to $60 for a sergeant and on up.

North Sask. Ore Finds Promise Further Hunt

PRINCE ALBERT — (BUP) — Several mineral discoveries have been made in Northern Saskatchewan lately

Special field officer Malcolm Norris of the provincial mineral resources branch says promising showings have been recorded in the Nunn Lake, Triveet Lake and Forbes Lake areas. All are in the Lac La Ronge district.

Norris says discovery of uraninite crystals up to one inch in diameter at Nunn Lake is especially interesting. He says the crystals contain 65 to 80 per cent uranium oxide compared to the 50 to 80 per cent in pitchblende. He says the Nunn Lake discovery warrants further exploration.

At Triveet Lake the find is radioactive pegmatite. Prospectors already have staked claims in the area.

Norris adds that an Indian prospecting team discovered gold showings in the Forbes Lake area. The findings assayed at .10 and were valued at $3.50.

LONDON—(Reuters)—The Stock Exchange today largely followed the pattern of the previous day except that the turnover appeared to be rather smaller and there were fewer outstanding movements.

The main business was concentrated in commodity shares and there was a good deal of activity among these issues likely to benefit from increased business as a result of the government's defence plans.

Shipbuilding, electrical equipments, machine tools and tramp shippings were among the most favored and there was a broadening in interest in both motor and aircraft shares.

Indian Police Fire Again As Students Riot

Three others were killed and seven injured in a similar incident yesterday.

Australia Considers Canada Best Capital Goods Source

OTTAWA, Aug. 10—(CP)—Australia, bringing in about 200,000 immigrants every year, needs capital goods from Canada which she cannot get from non-dollar countries, Prime Minister Menzies said here yesterday.

"Newsprint is one of the things we need most badly from Canada," Mr. Menzies said at a press conference. He left later for Vancouver after a three-day visit to the capital, which followed talks in London and Washington.

"At the moment," the prime Minister told a questioner, "I cannot say whether there is any likelihood of our newsprint purchases from Canada being renewed."

The problem of Australia's dollar shortage was "sufficiently teasing to have engaged my attention considerably during the last six weeks." However, he sidestepped a direct answer to the question: "If you borrowed money from Canada could you trade more with us?"

KOREA PROBLEMS

Mr. Menzies dealt briskly with a battery of questions on the Korean war. To some of them he replied tersely: "No comment."

He had received "no word" as to how soon Australian troops would be ready for service in Korea, but agreed that there were "similarities" between Canadian and Australian plans to aid the United Nations in the current conflict.

Mr. Menzies confirmed that there is some Communist activity in Australia, and said the government will press a measure to prevent Communists from holding government office or trade union posts.

Asked if there is any movement afoot to form an Empire cabinet to meet the Korean crisis, he replied: "I do not think so."

Churchill Plans Speech Friday

STRASBOURG, France, Aug 10—(AP)—Winston Churchill has postponed until tomorrow an address in which he is expected to call for rearming West Germany to bolster Europe's defences against Communism.

The British Coonservative party leader had been scheduled to address the European Consultative Assembly today. No reason was given for the postponement, but most assembly circles thought he needed more time to prepare what is expected to be one of the major addresses of his career.

Pilot Escapes Burning Aircraft

Norman Hartnell, piloting a light plane for Whitehorse Flying Service, was flying 90 miles northeast of Whitehorse when the aircraft caught fire. He landed on Quiet Lake. He was alone in the plane.

In 1949 the Royal Australian Air Force had a total of 20 squadrons and detached flights.

The unconfirmed Chinese reports said the Reds were shifted in small groups by junks at night from Chinese Mainan Island into nearby Indo-China.
